No Additional Pay Permitted Poor Directors

Judge Hildebrand Holds
County Commissioners
Entitled Only To
Salary Of $3000

THREE SURCHARGED FOR THE YEAR 1931

Poor Board Salary Repealed
By The Act Of 1927 Is Court's Decision

County commissioners of Lawrence county are not entitled to $600 salary for acting as a poor board, in addition to their salary of $3000 as county commissioners, according to an opinion rendered this morning by Judge E. L. Hildebrand.

Former county commissioners Calvin C. Boyd and T. J. McCullough, and former and present county commissioner, P. O. Elder are surcharged, jointly and severally, with $1800, the amounts of their salaries for acting as a poor board in 1931, the year called in question by the controversy.

Appeal Is Made

In September, 1932, certain taxpayers appealed from the consolidated report of the county auditors and the newly elected county controller, averring that the county commissioners who also acted as directors of the poor for 1931, had paid themselves $2,700 out of the poor fund account for acting as poor directors. It was contended that under recent acts they were only entitled to a salary of $3000 for acting as county commissioners, and (Continued On Page Seven)

PA NEW C OBSERVES

The only detour now existing in this section of the state is a little stretch in the Borough of Beaver, the Detour Bulletin of the State Highway Department shows. There are only about a half-dozen detours existing in the entire state, road building have reached a low ebb at the present time.

Having finished the job of smoothing out the holes on East Washington street, employees of the State Highway Department here have turned their attention to Croton avenue, between East Washington street and Crawford avenue. Many rough spots in the paving are being covered with amelite and rolled down smooth.

Young Pa New and his sister, along with Old Pa New and Ma, are hoping that this evening will be clear and snappy for the big Halloween parade on the South Side. Unfavorable weather has greeted the marchers on many an occasion, but indications point to fine weather this evening.

Local hunters who go to the woods on Wednesday for the opening of the small game hunting season, should beware of the fire danger. Extra precautions should be taken against starting a fire in the woods. Every thing is very dry, and the leaves that cover the ground would afford a quick method of spreading a fire.

Pa New is informed that the road leading from the West Washington street extension to the Burton Powder plant is in need of attention. It is reported as exceedingly rough at the present time.

Employees of the city street department have been engaged for some time past in a new labor. They are hauling leaves off the streets by the truck load.

Be Careful! Tonights Hallowe'en!

(International News Service)
Be careful tonight!
Be alert for an icy breath across your shoulder!
Like little Orphan Annie, "the goblins" get you if you don't watch-out!
It's Hallowe'en and there's be sperrits and hants abroad after dark.
Watch out for the headless horseman as he goes galloping by on his ghostly steed.
And the old witch with her black cat hunched on her shoulders, watch out for her too. She'll be 'way up there in the sky tonight, framed by a harvest moon, as her rickety old broom goes "swish, swish" across the stars.

It's a night of incantations, of weird dances by grotesque figures, of hobgoblins and grinning "punkin-faces."
As well to attempt to stave off fate as to attempt to halt the ghostly parade, because man-made celebrations will lend force to the gathering of the spirits tonight.
Throughout the nation, in cities and towns and private homes, preparations were ready for the advent of Hallowe'en at nightfall. Colorful processions were arranged for the larger cities while in the homes there were lively displays of crepe paper, with pumpkin lanterns and figures of witches and goblins and hants.

Perhaps the most rollicking of all celebrations will be those in the homes, and dreamy-eyed maidens take heed!
In the home on Hallowe'en prevails the age-old custom of "ducking for apples." It is accompanied by the naive superstition that if the lucky girl who sinks her teeth into the apple and emerges from the water-bucket with the apple in her mouth places her prize under her pillow, her dreams will be colored by visions of her future husband.

But, private or public, there'll be sperrits abroad this night.
So, be careful.
And watch out especially for the old witch with her cat and her broom. She's searching for babies born this night, according to the old superstition, so that she may endow them with super-natural powers.

Citizens Reject School Building Plan In Shenango

Meeting Of Citizens At East
New Castle Against The School Loan Plan

TOWNSHIP NOW HAS HEAVY DEBT

Speakers Against Idea Of Going Further In Debt
At Present Time

By the vote of some 200 taxpayers Monday night, Shenango township defeated a proposal to borrow sufficient money from the Federal government to add school room space to the present school plants. The meeting was held in the auditorium of the Shenango Township consolidated school at East New Castle and was in charge of Charles Aiken, president of the school board.

Opening the meeting, Mr. Aiken said that a meeting of citizens and taxpayers had been called to discuss the advisability of adding to the school plant, and the advisability of securing money from the Federal government to pay the bill. He called upon Glenn W. Johnson, principal of the school.

Students Increase

"A glance around the school will convince you that we are crowded here," said Mr. Johnson. "The rooms are crowded, the seats are close together and the average class is about 43. Thirty five is considered to be as large a class as a teacher can handle efficiently. In addition we have five portable buildings which are hard to heat, have low ceilings and poor ventilation.

In 1926-27 we had 813 pupils in the building. Today we have 1099 and 68 more who are hauled to the joint school. The high school enrollment has increased from 171 in 1929-30 to 278 this year and a possible enrollment of 321 next year. To handle the crowd of pupils efficiently we should have about one room more per grade.

City Superintendent John C. Sylling then spoke and said that it was true that conditions were crowded, but that the question of ability to pay the costs entered into the problem. This he said was the problem of the people of Shenango Township. "In other words," said he, "if you need the rooms can you afford to pay for them?"

Questions Raised

He then asked for questions and a series of questions were put to him from the floor of the meeting.

Q—"What is the bonded indebtedness of Shenango Township?"
A—$111,000.

Q—"What is the balance due on the Shenango-Taylor building?"
A—$18,000.

Q—"When was the building erected?"
A—1922.

Q—"What was the cost of the building originally?"
A—$32,000.

Q—"What sum was borrowed to pay for the building we are in?"
A—$100,000.

Q—"How much is due yet?"
A—$87,000.

Q—"How much does it cost the taxpayers of Shenango Township each year for debt service?"
A—$11,400.

Q—"When was this building first used?"
A—1927.

Explains Federal Plan

Chairman Aiken then introduced Architect A. L. Thayer who explained the working of the Federal plan whereby money could be borrowed for the erection of a school building. "The government has $3,300,000,000 to loan for public building purposes," said Mr. Thayer. "Several townships of the county are taking advantage of the plan to erect new rooms. In the event that the community can not bond itself for more money, the government will build

Michigan Man Is Kidnaped By Gang Of Bandits

(International News Service)
MARSHALL, Mich., Oct. 31.—L. E. Brooks, millionaire manufacturer, was kidnaped from his home early today, forced to open a safe in his factory and was taken away a captive of the bandits. State police broadcast an alarm throughout the state.

Three bandits, seen earlier loitering in the vicinity of Brooks' home, held him up as he arrived at 3:30 a. m. from there they compelled him to drive them to his plant, the Brooks Rupture Appliance company, where they overpowered watchmen and looted the safe.

The holdup was reported to State police by the watchmen when they freed themselves. Investigation at Brooks' home revealed he had not returned.

"Boys, Be Good" Request Of Chief

Chief John Haven made a personal plea to the boys of New Castle.

"Tonight is Hallowe'en. There are many gardens from which crops have not yet been removed. Don't bother them. People need the food. Don't do unto others you would not have others do unto you," said the chief in putting the boys on their honor.

Not So Much "Rough Stuff" In Present Day Hallowe'en Pranks As In Former Times

Among the queer superstitions that have been handed down to us from the dark ages, there is none that seems to cling more tenaciously to the human mind, than that of goblins and witches who hold sway at Hallowe'en. On this one night of the year the natural human devilishness inherent in most every normal man or woman, is supposed to find vent. It may take the form of some innocent amusement, but often there is an inclination to overstep the bounds of propriety, and commit some act of vandalism, or near vandalism, that would not be countenanced on any other night of the year.

Just why this old superstition, this supposed freedom of action on Hallowe'en, has managed to come down to us through succeeding generations, is a mystery, but one which no student will be made to solve. It is sufficient for the average boy or girl to know that his or her parents, and their parents before them, celebrated Hallowe'en by (Continued On Page Two)

During Morning

State police headquarters here today was stormed by persons from nearby cities who came here with the hope of identifying and recovering articles stolen recently from their homes. A considerable amount of the loot was identified and returned to persons from Sharon, Youngstown, Campbell, Hubbard and also in New Castle.

The plunder, worth about $3,000, it is said, included a varied assortment of articles and was recovered as the result of an investigation by State Policemen Hughmanick and Constable Fallon following a fire which destroyed a Harbor home.

Much Identified.

The articles were moved hurriedly to the Harbor home in Sampson street here and following arrests Sunday night the goods were taken to state police station and today it appeared as though the room occupied by state police was being used for rummage sale purposes.

Police, women and men crowded the room. They recognized articles as having been stolen, and when they identified the article, they registered for the article and were allowed to take it home. Jewelry was included among the articles identified.

Conference Between Steel
Leaders And President
Brings Results

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—President Roosevelt's recovery program moved forward today under the powerful impetus of an important double victory won by the executive over the steel industry.

In Pennsylvania, thousands of striking workers in captive mines owned by the steel companies agreed to return to work under labor agreements won for them by the president.

Wherever the great steel rail roller mills operated, workmen overhauled them for an 800,000 ton job—rails which the president arranged for the railroads to buy from the steel industry at $36.375 a ton.

Agreement Reached

An all day conference at the White House with the steel leaders brought these cheerful developments. The steel men, headed by Myron Taylor of the United States Steel Corp., came after two weeks of "negotiations" with their employees in captive coal mines failed to smooth out the differences which brought on the strike, and they came after an apparent breakdown of a plan embracing R. F. C. financing of rail purchases by the railroads.

Under the agreement of the steel executives, those employees will return to work immediately. Temporarily the provisions of the Appalachian mines and the United Mine Workers will prevail. As soon as employees' representatives are elected by the workers, the operators and these representatives will draft an agreement specifically for captive mines.

The captive mine agreement will embrace terms equally as favorable to the workers as those of the Appalachian agreement, under the substantial accord reached by both the operators and the workers with the president.

BODY IS FOUND STUFFED IN SEWER

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—A mystery within a mystery—the identity of the victim—confronted police today as they sought a solution to the slaying of an attractive 19-year-old girl whose body had been crammed into a roadside sewer near Verona.

A further touch of the gruesome was added to the case with the grim possibility that the girl may still have been alive when she was thrust into the sewer.

The body was found by Mrs. Esther Abraham and her small son. The lad called his mother's attention to spatters of blood on the pavement and the discovery followed.

BUSINESS MEN ARRANGE EVENT

Expect Largest Crowd In District Of Many Years;
Davis Is Marshall

All roads lead to the South Side tonight. Whether you live in New Castle or Ellwood City in New Wilmington or any of the townships, the South Side invites you to the Hallowe'en celebration tonight and if you have ever been to one in previous years, you won't need any second invitation.

Whether you expect to parade as a mummer or look on as a spectator makes no difference. You are invited for the biggest night of fun you've had since the next door neighbor broke his saxophone.

Starts At Eight.

The parade starts at eight o'clock tonight, and that means just eight o'clock, no more, no less, according to the grand marshal, Ivor V. Davis, and customers there is nothing grander than a grand marshal of a Hallowe'en parade.

Starting at Hamilton and Long the parade will move over Pollock to Phillips street, down Phillips to Mill, down Mill to Long, down Long to Scioto, over Scioto to Reiber, down Reiber to Moravia, down Moravia to Long and up Long to the Lincoln-Garfield school. Here the judges will be located under the supervision of Councilman D. O. Davies who is a Hallowe'en judge of long standing.

Hundreds Of Prizes.

There are hundreds of prizes, some cash and some merchandise. The list of prizes is the longest and best ever offered in New Castle and while it may take most of the night to distribute them, it's all in fun neighbor.

NATIONAL GUARD WILL JOIN PARADE HERE

Guard Units To Feature Parade Armistice Day

Butler And Ellwood City Units Will Join Troop F In Line Of March

NEED HORSES FOR USE OF PARADERS

In addition to the many local civic, fraternal and veteran groups, who will be in the big Armistice Day parade here November 11, when the Tri-County Armistice Day celebration occurs, there will be a number of National Guard units from the surrounding territory.

Definite assurances have been received by committee headed by Major W. F. Jackson, that Headquarters and Combat Battalion, 2nd Battalion, 107th Field Artillery, Ellwood City; Company D, 112th Infantry and Medical Detachment of 112th Infantry, of Butler will be here to join Troop F, 103rd Cavalry of this city, in parading.

May Come From Grove City

Definite word has not yet been received from the two National Guard detachments at Grove City, but they are also expected. These units are the Regimental Headquarters of 112th Infantry and Headquarters Company, 112th Infantry.

There has been some response to the plea for horses to be used by the National Guardsmen in the parade on November 11, but more are still needed, Dr. Jackson stated today. These horses will be ridden by the guardsmen in the parade and will be well cared for as every Trooper is an experienced horseman. Draft horses are needed to haul the artillery which will be brought here by the Ellwood City unit.

Persons who are willing to donate the use of mounts for the day are requested to call Dr. W. F. Jackson, phone 437.

member, has been conceded by the operators. Refusal to use this system on the part of the operators was chiefly responsible for the trouble in the captive mines fields.

To Provide Collective Bargaining

An important feature already agreed upon as part of the captive mine agreement to be drafted provided specifically for collective bargaining for the workers by their chosen representative. It further provides that when any controversy was still unsettled after ten days of effort at settlement, the question be immediately submitted to the National Labor Board for decision. This decision, it was provided, would be final.

Under the agreement reached at the White House, every captive mine which has an outlet for its product shall be reopened, and employees working when the mine last operated shall be put back to work without discrimination as to membership in any labor organization.

Agreement upon the price of $36.375 a ton for steel rails was the result of a compromise. When bids were asked, it was made plain that the R. F. C. would loan the railroads money to buy the rails only if they were sold by the steel companies at not more than $35.00 a ton. The steel companies offered rails at $37.75 a ton.

President Roosevelt suggested that the two figures be averaged, and the difference split.

Mines Remain Idle

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—Despite the agreement brought about by President Roosevelt at Washington, Fayette county captive mines were locked tightly in the bituminous coal strike grip today with indications they may continue idle for some time to come.

With insurgent leaders denouncing the agreement—as opposed to approval voted by mine union leaders—close-knit picket lines were formed this morning at practically every idle pit of the H. C. Frick Coke company.

Representatives of 70 locals in district No. 4, United Mine Workers of America, prepared to meet tomorrow with William Hynes, district president, to decide on a course of action. Questioned regarding dissatisfaction in the strikers' ranks over the presidential agreement, Hynes said:

"I think they will find they are up against a stone wall and will have to go along with the rest."

NOT SO MUCH ROUGH STUFF AS FORMERLY

adorning pumpkin faces with candles and playing pranks of various kinds.

Council Moderation

Today the younger generation is counseled to moderation in Halloween pranks. The police issue manifestos that fun is fun, but vandalism is a crime. No Vandalism, the warning destruction of property, will be tolerated. In earlier times the police did not take such an active part in regulating Halloween. In most cases the young folks, when they went out to have a good time, were a law unto themselves. While there were possibly not many acts of real vandalism, still there were many cases where it would have been pretty hard to draw the line.

At any rate the old times had more opportunities than exist today. In the earlier days of New Castle nearly every property was inclosed by a picket, or some other kind of a fence. The stores, in place of being the big chain affairs with electric signs, were more on the order of shops. In front of every store or shop, there was a sign telling the kind of business in which the owner was engaged.

Common Amusements

According to the old timers, one of the common amusements of Halloween in the old days, was the transporting of fence gates and the changing of signs. Many of the fence gates were put on with detachable hinges. All that was necessary on Halloween was to lift up the gate and make away with it. These gates were usually hung up on trees, placed on top of houses, barns and sheds, or secreted in some out of the way place. Sometimes the gates were so securely hidden that they were never found.

Next to the carrying off of gates, the changing of signs on stores and shops, was a popular form of Halloween prank. The signs were usually made of one or two large boards, and it was quite easy to pry them off. For instance a sign would be taken from in front of a fish market and would be tacked up in front of a millinery store, while the millinery sign would adorn the fish market.

Many New Signs

There were many tailor shops and shoe shops, in New Castle in the earlier days, and the signs from these would be taken down, and nailed up in front of confectionaries, groceries and other places. One following Halloween was for citizens to come down street and read the new signs over places of business. Citizens seemed to get a real kick out of it.

Some of the older residents of the city remember the old covered bridge across the Shenango on West Washington street. The roof of this bridge was popular with the Halloweeners. Usually, on the morning following Halloween it would be covered with gates, buggies, furniture, and anything else which the maunders could get hold of. There was plenty of sport when the owners of the property came to get it down. Some would swear, others merely grin.

Put Wagon On Barn

As an illustration of the big things which the Halloweeners would move an old timer tells of a heavy wagon, such as was used in hauling a limestone, being placed on top of Captain Green's barn on County Line street. Captain Green, who was the father of Alderman O. H. P. Green, was one of the operators of the Green and Marquis limestone quarries east of town. Before the "dimkey" railroad was built the limestone used to be hauled to the furnaces in heavy wagons. These wagons, with the mules that hauled them were kept in Captain Green's barn, which stood at the rear of the lot now occupied by the Second United Presbyterian church on County Line street.

On a morning following Halloween one of the heavy limestone wagons was found sitting on top of the roof, the wheels being on either side. It was always something of a mystery how the wagon was got to the top of the building. Some held the theory that the wheels had been taken off, and the wagon taken up piece by piece. Others that the Halloweeners had hauled it up on ladders. No matter how it was taken up, it proved to be quite a task to get it down, and the teamsters who were assigned to the task, were not disposed to use sissy talk.

It was a common thing to see buggies on top of sheds or barns, but it was not often that such a heavy object as a wagon would be tackled.

In the earlier days New Castle had no sanitary sewer system, and as a result there was a form of so-called amusement that came dangerously near to vandalism. In general, it may be said that the old time celebrators moved nearly everything that was loose on Halloween night, and also a lot that was nailed down. Such actions of the day would be looked upon with holy horror, which probably don't prove much, except that possibly we are becoming more civilized.

But maunders parties were not the only kind held in the old days. There were nut cracking, kissing parties, crackling parties, pulling. Nut cracking parties were popular, because there were plenty of nuts in those days, just as there are today, but of a different kind.

Out In Country

Out in the country districts the Halloween bug bit in much the same manner that it did in the city, but there were some variations to the pranks. Throwing down fences and building fences across the highways, that would not be counted on today. There were also many Halloweeners who got a kick out of carrying corn-fodder out on the highway and stacking it up. Traveling late on Halloween night was a dangerous trip in those days.

Nut cracking parties, taffy pullings, and husking bees, were the lighter amusements in the country districts. The husking bees were probably the most popular, for the youth who found a red ear of corn got to kiss a girl. Not that kissing was anything new in those days, but kissing in ways are past, but Halloween is still a relic of barbarism to which we cling. Probably the inclination to wreck something is just as strong, but there are restraining influences.

The spirit of the times is seen in co-operation. Today the Halloween celebration is a social affair, just like the old days. The old days were a time of lawlessness, but now we are a time of law. The Halloween celebration is a time of law, and it is hoped, no vandalism.

MANY SEEK TO IDENTIFY GOODS FOUND IN LOOT

and Mrs. George Zalick, mother and daughter, and wives of the two fugitives maintained a grim silence in the county jail. State police have not yet put them through a grilling and the prisoners have not admitted any connection with the thefts.

Among the stolen articles was a pair of trousers which Orie Anderson, funeral director of Hubbard, was accustomed to wear while he conducted funeral services. In addition the stolen other clothing from the funeral director.

C. Artherton, High Road, Sharon, identified and recovered a watch. Martin Williams, West State St., Sharon, identified and had returned an electric percolator and Dr. W. El Campbell, South Sharon street, identified and recovered a cornet.

Former Mayor Victim

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams, of Youngstown, who lost, they said, $1100 in goods two months ago, identified an electric toaster and T. Roy Gorton, former mayor of Campbell, O., recovered old gold coins valued at $50.

C. D. Dobson, pharmacist, Clarendale avenue, Youngstown, identified and recovered a brown squirrel coat and suit, opal ring, gold ring and a pair of shoes, taken from his home. This went identification of articles by other persons.

The alleged thieves evidently took everything they could lift and haul away and their taste did not only run toward jewelry, fur coats and tapestries, but also eggs, butter, potatoes, bread and foodstuffs it appears.

There is a seakins coat awaiting identification at the State police, meshbags, revolvers and various other articles such as bedclothing, linens, draperies, rifles and typewriters.

State police said that LaFayette Royston, George Miles, G. C. Richardson and Mrs. Frank C. Richardson had identified articles stolen from their homes here.

Hunt Fugitives

Detective Thomas brought persons from Sharon, Sheriff Hardman from Aren, O., a city detective from Campbell and officers from Youngstown and Salem accompanied people who recently had been robbed, to State police station.

Meanwhile, the police of Pennsylvania and Ohio are reaching for Walter Rausch and George Zalick, father-in-law and son-in-law, respectively. They escaped, after it is alleged Zalick first fired a revolver shot pointblank at Hughmanick.

Zalick was last seen traveling along the highway near New Bedford. He was coatless. It is known that the elder Rausch was in Youngstown yesterday. The dragnet for them has been thrown out through the tristate section.

State police today turned loose Harold Rausch, a young son, but held Frank Rausch. These two sons came here from Youngstown yesterday and were arrested by city police. Frank Rausch is charged with breaking, entering and larceny.

While the two men are at large, their wives and children of one are in jail. Those held are: Mrs. Dora Rausch and sons, Clyde, Frank and Donald and her daughter Mrs. Geo. Zalick.

land in the South Side. Don't expect to be able to park your car near the parade for there will be more people in the South Side than you ever imagined could be packed in. They'll probably push the buildings back a couple of feet to make room.

and equip the building and will rent it to the district at an annual rental of 4 1/2 per cent of the cost, these payments to amortize the debt over a period of 30 years."

Said the chairman, "I believe we should now take up the question of whether or not we want to take advantage of any loans from the government."

Question from the floor: "What do you propose to build?"

A—"We don't propose to build anything unless the taxpayers agree to it. That's why this meeting was called."

Q—"How many rooms are needed?"

A—"About 12."

Q—"What would the cost be per room?"

A—"About $4,000 or $5,000 per room."

Open Discussion

Mr. Aiken then threw the meeting open to discussion and John Curry took the floor. "It has been said that conditions in the schools are bad. They are not so good with us either. We're working for nothing and boarding ourselves. They call us in here to discuss bonding ourselves still further for $50,000. If we can't keep up our payments on what we owe, how can we be expected to take on any more debt?"

The Teachers colleges are now selecting their students, why can't we select them also in the high school here?"

Curtis Reno. "Mr. Chairman was the man who called your attention to the possibility of getting federal money for new buildings here a taxpayer of Shenango township?"

Mr. Reno. "Then I think you should forget it. We've had enough of outsiders coming in and telling us what to do."

Senator George T. Weingartner then took the floor. "I have waited for some one to speak favorably of this proposition," said he, "but there appears to be none. There are conditions arise at times that we cannot help and some of those conditions are in our schools. We are told that the government is going to give us thirty per cent of the cost of the building. The government isn't going to give anything, for when you accept the grant the gift and the building are so hedged around with conditions that your building cost is increased about the size of the grant."

Situation Today

"Before this building we are in was authorized I was one who drove the roads of the township night after night in the winter helping to build my neighbors that such a building was a good thing. I thought it was a good thing then and I still think so and am willing to pay my share of the debt."

"What is the situation today? After using this building seven years we have paid $13,000, and after using the Shenango-Taylor building for 13 years we have paid $19,000. At this rate it will take us 53 years to pay off what we owe for the buildings we now have."

"It isn't what we would like to do, it's what we can afford to do. Attention has been called to the lack of ventilation and conditions in some of the portables. The conditions in some of the homes of the people are worse. Mister chairman before your board can spend $50,000 of the taxpayers you must get a vote of the people. I don't believe the NRA or General Johnston by one stroke of the pen can wipe out a constitution of Pennsylvania just yet, and I don't believe that you can take money from the government and thus put the people in debt, without their permission by vote."

Operate 12 Months

"There are other ways out it seems to me. Down in Alliquippa they operate the schools for 12 months per year and they seem to do the same thing and I believe it could be done here. There are yet $12,000 of 1932 school taxes unpaid in this township, there are liens against 156 farms for taxes, and half of the 1933 school taxes are not paid. Now why talk about adding any more burden on the shoulders of the people?"

"I move you mister chairman that it is the sense of this meeting that Shenango township make no application to the federal government for money to building additional school facilities at this time."

After waiting for a few moments for discussion, the chairman put the question and it was carried apparently unanimously. The meeting then adjourned.

"Just like him."

"What! Have you seen it?"

Crime-hardened, veteran police officers were shocked over the killer's brutality. One pointed out that the girl may have been alive when thrust into the sewer. The sewer has a small rectangular opening from the street, and her body must have been doubled up by the killer and stuffed into this opening. Yet, when found, the body was in an upright, sitting position.

MUSIC CLUB PROGRAM PRESENTED AT CHURCH

The Music Club held its regular meeting Monday evening in the Highland United Presbyterian church. The program opened with the singing of "American the Beautiful" by the audience and a short business session with Mrs. J. L. Reed, president, in charge. Silent tribute was paid to the late Mrs. Gladys Rosenthal, a solo active member.

Scandinavian music was the subject for the program. Mrs. D. Duff Scott in her excellent paper on this topic, brought out in a very forceful manner how the art music of a nation reflects the general character of its folk music, which in turn is conditioned by the physical aspect of the particular country. Miss Martha McGill acted as hostess.

Each piano, vocal and violin number showed much preparation and artistic ability upon the part of the performer. The following took part in the program: piano—Miss Katherine W. McMillan, Miss Margaret Graham, Mrs. Alan B. Davis; vocal, Mrs. Gomer Emery; violin, Anthony Caserio; two piano numbers, Miss Beatrice Laverick and Miss Laura Whitlatch. Accompanists were Miss Elizabeth Roski and Miss Margaret Hertzler.

At the close of the meeting, the club chorus held a rehearsal with Richard Johns conducting. A special organ program will be given November 13 at the First Presbyterian church with Mrs. J. Norman Martin as hostess.

Ushers last evening included Miss Jean Jackson, Miss Genevieve Riddle and Miss Jane Allen.

Five new solo active members, three choral active and two associate members were admitted to the club membership.

HALLOWE'EN EVENT AT ALLERTON HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Zack Allerton entertained in their home, 114 West Leasure avenue, Monday evening, friends at a Halloween party. Dances, games, chat, etc., filled in the hours in a pleasing manner which were conducted in the basement decorated to represent a woods, typical of the season. A filling menu was later served to twenty-five, the appointments being in keeping with the event.

P. E. O. SISTERHOOD B. I. L. PARTY SUCCESS

Members of the P. E. O. Sisterhood entertained at their season party Saturday evening in the home of Mrs. A. E. Michaels on Covert road which was in the form of a B. I. L. gathering featuring a white elephant party that caused much hilarity. The program was in charge of Mrs. Carrie Jefferies Roberts which was sided with various games. These were arranged so to have the prize go to Mr. and Mrs. Jack McNeill, it being a gift of crystal which was the remembrance of the Sisterhood in honoring their 15th wedding anniversary.

The ladies were escorted by their husbands and friends and at a late hour a delicious lunch was served buffet style. Thirty shared the occasion. Mrs. Michael, general chairman was assisted by her committee. Plans for the next meeting are to be announced.

COSTUME PARTY AT TEMPLE ISRAEL

Pumpkin faces, flickering candle lights, combined with orange and black decorations transformed the vestry room of Temple Israel into a most appropriate setting for a costume party Monday evening and there were characters of all descriptions worn by the members of the congregation, who turned out en masse to this celebration.

Mrs. Jack Leiby, dressed as a mulatto bride, won the first prize; Mrs. Jack Conn and Mrs. L. Reinhardt, as a bride and groom, were next in the prize line, followed by Mrs. Gordon Stone as the ring bearer. Other notable outfits in the group included Little Tommy Tucker, Little BoPeep, Little Miss Muffet, Mae West, a colonial dame, Old Mother Hubbard and many others.

Amusing games were the evening's entertainment until a late hour when a most delicious repast was served by Team Five, Mrs. Joseph Ehrlich, chairman.

Halloween Party

Misses Dorothy Smith and Ellen Snyder entertained jointly in the latter's home on Matilda avenue members of their set at a Halloween party. Dancing and games filled in the hours and Paul Griffith rendered piano solos. Lunch was served at a late hour by the girls, assisted by Mrs. Agnes Snyder.

Those present included Eena Raney, Ruby Wheaton, Ruth Raney, Mildred Buskirk, Betty Jane Buchanan, Margaret Snyder, Dorothy Smith, Ellen Snider, Paul Griffith, Lewis Dewberry, Earl Dugan, Bud Reinhardt, Walter Heckert, Pete Drake, Hugh Hannon, Tom Twaddle and the hostesses.

Entertainers Guests
Mr. and Mrs. Grant Waddle of Franklin avenue were hosts Saturday evening to a group of friends in their home when they entertained informally. Those present included their week end guests, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Knouff of Sandusky, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Townley of Oil City, also Mr. and Mrs. Paul Heile of Sharon, Miss Helena Burkhart, Miss Bess Gailley and Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Ruby all of New Castle.

In bringing the occasion to a close a delicious buffet lunch was served.

READING CIRCLE '91 HEARS MEMBERS

Mrs. H. C. Mitchell of Winter avenue, proved a charming hostess on Monday afternoon when she opened her home to the Circle of 91 for their regular meeting.

The president, Mrs. L. G. Nail was in charge of the business meeting. A splendid program was presented three minute talks were given by Mrs. Charles Long, Frances Perkins, Mrs. Ralph Reed, "Helen Keller", Mrs. James Blackwood, "Amelia Earhart Putnam", Mrs. Thomas Lindsey, "Victoria Sackville West", Mrs. W. J. Marshall, "Ruth Bryan Owen", Mrs. Homer Matthews, "Madame Ernestine Schumanhehn", Mrs. Harvey Robinson, "Mrs. Calvin Coolidge", Mrs. J. P. Caldwell, "Ethel Barrymore", Mrs. W. A. Taylor concluded the program with a well prepared symposium on the 12 Amendments to be voted on at the coming elections, Mrs. Long acted as critic.

The Circle adjourned to meet in two weeks with Mrs. John Butler of 318 Fairfield avenue.

M. C. CIRCLE PARTY IN THE BATES HOME

Merriment and hilarity reigned supreme Monday evening as forty verd looking folks knocked at the door of the M. R. Bates home on Beckford street. When they were permitted to enter they followed a spooky trail, which led to a "cave of the winds" in the attic, wherein witches and goblins held forth.

The masqueraders were members of the M. C. Circle of the Third United Presbyterian church and their husbands and a series of games kept the group in laughter all evening. Elizabeth Ryan was awarded a prize for the most mystifying costume. The program of the evening's entertainment was in the hands of Mrs. Florence Orr and Mrs. Ruth McCown.

After the period of games was over, once more the trail led to the basement of the home and here each one was given a paper bag, which, upon opening, revealed the lunch.

Mrs. Sue McKnight and Mrs. Myrtle Brown of the social committee planned the refreshments.

B. P. W. CLUB HAS PARTY LAST NIGHT

Even the King and Queen were present at the Business and Professional Women's club masquerade last night.

Gathering on the third floor of Dr. Mildred Rogers' home on North Mercer street, the crowd of guests numbering about sixty, enjoyed an evening of fun making. Fortune telling and visits to the "mystery room" added to the heterogeneity of the evening. The costumes worn by the women included everything from Venetian nobles to Little Red Riding Hood.

Guests were present from the Business and Professional Women's club of New Wilmington and Sharon.

Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

Entertain Team

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crabbe of Rose avenue entertained a group of friends at a Halloween party in their home, Friday evening, at a masquerade party. Music, games and dancing filled in the program with an appetizing menu being served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Mary McClelland and Mrs. Jack Collins.

Those in attendance were Olive Wight, Alice Mock of Edensburg, Pa.; Montgomery, Fatty Chapman, Gertrude Crabbe, Peg Brenner, Laura Space, Jennie McClelland, Cora McClelland, Steve Shaffic, Charles Summers, Warren Dwyer, Costello Deley, Augus Restivo, Joe Kelly, Mike Melder, Silvio Restivo, John McClelland, Harry Mack, Al Keder, Lindy Mack, Bob Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Collins, Mrs. Harry McClelland and the hosts.

Halloween Party

Miss Eleanor Casey, Etna street, entertained a group of young people most graciously in her home Monday evening at a Halloween party. Dancing and cards were the evening's diversions and at a late hour a lunch was served, carrying out the season's suggestions.

In the group were Eleanor Casey, Mary Quinn, Gertrude Quinn, Bill Hill, Helen Fulkerson, Jack Griffiths, Bill Hart, Jack Cole, Bill Brandt and Dean Smith.

Visit In Oil City

Sunday afternoon a group of people from the Epworth Methodist church were callers at the parsonage of the Oil City Methodist church making a visit with the former pastor of Epworth church, Dr. S. L. Maxwell, and wife.

The group included Mrs. E. O. Alexander, Mrs. T. W. Dickson, Mrs. J. C. B. Douthett, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCurdy, Norman Clark, Don Huffman and Howard Wylie.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS RELIEF BOARD WORKER

The Department of Welfare, Mrs. O. P. Brown, chairman and Mrs. O. P. McDowell, vice chairman, were in charge of the program for the meeting of the Woman's Club Monday afternoon in the Highland United Presbyterian church.

After the opening preliminaries of the afternoon, Miss Beulah Norris, welfare worker, was introduced and in an interesting manner she told of the work being done in the city and county by the County Emergency Relief Board for residents and transients. She named the articles which go to make up the baskets of food delivered to those on the roll of the relief board. In opening her talk she said "I wish there were time to explain what a broad and inclusive term social work really is. The whole field of welfare work has kept pace with the times and has become highly specialized."

"Perhaps the largest and most general field in social work comprises the work done by family agencies. These organizations are working constantly to preserve family solidarity; to keep homes together and to reunite families that may be broken. The workers must know their material needs and must see to it that they are met adequately. But the visitor goes far beyond material needs, it is a part of the visitor's planning for the family to see that recreation and educational desires are satisfied, to see that the family is directed in proper channels for medical care and legal advice and to see that home conditions are as near normal as possible."

There is also work in the children's field, to see that no child is admitted to an orphanage or institution until every possible effort has been made to see if he cannot be placed in a normal home environment. The medical or hospital social workers comprise the group working closely with problems of health in the modern dispensary. There are numerous fields of social work taking up every phase of the life of a family.

She spoke of the local work, which is done under the supervision of a chairman and six other members, who are giving much in time and energy to see that the needs of this county are met in an adequate manner. The workers make friendly contacts with the clients.

She said "In the month of September the state appropriated to Lawrence county $48,418, of this amount $25,918 were Federal funds and $22,500, state. The money is not sent in cash, not one cent of cash is sent in the local office but the bills are handled directly from Harrisburg. The local office is given the Carnegie Auditorium, which is the commissary. The order slip for a commissary order is given out from the Rescue Mission, the Fire station, 229 South Jefferson street and the fire station at 1208 Sciota street. These distributing points are manned by volunteers. In each order there is a number of pounds of food and the schedule of distribution is worked out on a basis of the number in the family." She told of how the diets are worked out for the good of the consumer.

At the close of her talk she answered many question put by the club members.

Miss Mary Aiken, chairman of the Legislative department, conducted a foreman on the amendments which are to be voted on at the coming election.

ELLWOOD COUPLE WED FIFTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hogue, of Ellwood City marked Monday, October 30 in their book a most notable occasion, being their golden wedding anniversary. The event was fittingly observed with an informal reception held at their home on Line avenue from 2 until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Relatives, neighbors and friends participated.

They are the parents of seven children, twenty nine grandchildren and three great grandchildren, all of whom are living.

ST. ANDREW'S PARTY IS DELIGHTFUL EVENT

There were one hundred and twenty five different styles of costumes in evidence Monday evening in St. Andrew's Episcopal church when the Sunday school members enjoyed a Halloween masquerade.

Pumpkin faces and lanterns were intertwined among the autumn leaves and corn stalks which were used in decorating the room, while in one corner stood a cleverly arranged sweet shoppe.

At 8:30 Elmer Frye struck up a march and the masquerade had a grand march about the room, and at the conclusion of the parade Eunice Woodcock was awarded a prize for the most original costume; George Gregory for the classiest outfit; Bob Reynolds for the funniest, while the children's prizes were awarded Buddy Cartwright, Billy Falls and Harriet Lusk.

Miss Ann Hitchen, Mildred Gregor and Eunice Woodcock were in charge of the general arrangements and the refreshments, which were served cafeteria style, were in charge of Catherine Smith, Ada Riley, Jane Reynolds and Jane Smith.

The decorations committee included Ben Berry, Arthur Owens, Chester Hetrick and George Gregor.

Party For Son

Mrs. Charles Thompson, Jefferson street extension, entertained twenty seven masked guests Monday evening in honor of her son, Thomas.

Games, contests and other features of a Halloween party kept the group busy until a late hour, when refreshments were served.

Richard Miles won the prize of the evening.

Halloween Party

Mrs. Jennie Abraham of East Long avenue entertained about 30 boys and girls at her home Monday evening at a Halloween party.

Games, dancing and singing were the pastimes of the evening.

At a late hour, Mrs. Abraham served a delicious luncheon.

GLADYS ERWIN HOSTESS TO TAU DELTA CLASS

The members of the Tau Delta class of the Epworth Methodist church, donned pretty costumes Monday evening and went to the home of Miss Gladys Erwin, Richelieu avenue, where a Halloween party was held, with Mrs. Rilla Carr and Elizabeth McFarland as associate hostesses.

Games of an amusing nature were enjoyed, with Florence Rodgers winning the prize in the jumbled word contest, and Elizabeth McFarland and Ethel Boyd the apple eating contest. Bingo awards went to Polye Parker, Dorothy Depp, Margaret McKissick, Dorothy Barnes, Margaret Zekeli, Mrs. Charles Andrews and Genevieve Johns. Dorothy Depp received a prize for identifying the most members.

Miss Mildred Rodgers was a special guest.

Refreshments were served from a prettily decorated table.

SURPRISE PARTY HONORS J. L. THOMAN

On Saturday evening, Mrs. J. L. Thoman, of Hillcrest avenue entertained in her home Saturday evening a gathering of friends in honor of her husband, J. L. Thoman, the occasion being in celebration of his birthday.

Taking the honored one by complete surprise, the guests extended him congratulations. A tasty buffet lunch was served at 7 o'clock and following the guests motored to the Embassy in Youngstown, Ohio, where they were entertained until a late hour.

Mr. Thoman was the recipient of a number of handsome gifts in remembrance of the day.

H. G. L. Girls Supper.

The H. G. L. Girls club will entertain Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Lola Kerr, Rose avenue. The menu is to be served at 6:30 o'clock with an entertaining program following.

HADASSAH MEMBERS HEAR OF CONVENTION

A most enthusiastic meeting of the Senior Hadassah members took place Monday evening in the Beth Shalom Center when Mrs. J. Kullin and Mrs. L. P. Kohn gave thrilling reports of the convention they attended as an alternate.

They told that the most constructive piece of work planned by Hadassah for the coming year is the building of a medical center at Jerusalem, in conjunction with the establishment of a Radiology Institute, under the direction of Dr. J. Halberstadter, former head of the Cancer Institution at Berlin University.

Mrs. Kohn was honored at the convention by being named as chairman of the committee on committees.

When the program of the evening was over, the group sang Halleluach and then the hostesses, Mrs. H. Robinson, Mrs. A. Fisher, Mrs. D. Tobin, Mrs. Broadman and Mrs. A. Frank, served refreshments.

P. B. G. Bridge Club

On Thursday evening, November 9 the P. B. G. Bridge Club will meet with Stella Wynar, Wilder avenue. Their last meeting was held in the home of Mary Krupa, Moravia street, who entertained at cards. Prizes were awarded to Frances Zuchowski and Bertha Dombek at conclusion of play. Being ushered into the dining room the guests were served a dainty menu by the hostess at a nicely appointed table.

Halloween Party

A masquerade party was given recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Augustine of R. F. D. No. 7, Sheep Hill district when they entertained a gathering of friends. Games, music and dancing were the diversions. Lunch was served at a late hour by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Joe Augustine, Mrs. Joe Ross, Mrs. Serfine Marso, Mrs. R. Frenkel and Miss Crum.

PENNSYLVANIA RELIEF AT AN END?

FROM the $18,000,000 appropriated by the legislature for unemployment relief the State Emergency Relief Board has made its last allocation.

When a state helps itself the federal government extends aid, hence the $18,000,000 fund has been amplified by cash sent from Washington. When a state ceases to help itself, Washington steps out of the picture.

The State Emergency Relief Board has reached the end of its resources supplied by the legislature. It has taken care of November. But on December 1 there will remain only $36,254. A little more than that, to be exact—84 cents. And this trifling surplus is credited to the federal government.

Officials at Harrisburg are under no delusions as to what will happen if Pennsylvania does not come to the rescue, and no intelligent citizen should be under any delusion, either. Unless Pennsylvania provides more money, the federal government can not be counted upon.

Pennsylvania is obliged to provide more money in one of two ways. The people of this commonwealth must ratify the proposed constitutional amendment authorizing the $25,000,000 bond issue, or the legislature at its coming special session will be forced to resort to special taxes—a very difficult thing to do, with all sorts of complications.

Authorize the bond issue, and $20,000,000 will go for relief, with Washington keeping pace. Defeat it, and Washington retires until such time as the legislature shall raise an increased revenue through increased taxation. Defeat it, furthermore, and every state-aided hospital, university and college will be most seriously crippled.

Whatever is done with the other proposed amendments at the November election, this particular one—No. 8—should be supported to the limit. Keep it in mind—No. 8—and vote for it.

PERMANENT WORLD'S FAIR?

The Century of Progress Exposition, which was to close October 31, has been extended to November 12 and may be continued longer. Chicago has expressed a desire to continue it indefinitely and some have advocated that it be an annual fair. The exposition has been a boon to Chicago, bringing some 22,000,000 more or less to view it, and it is said tourists have expended about $200,000,000 in Chicago since the opening.

It seems a pity that the exposition city should be no more, that its glory and its glamor and its truly wonderful contribution to the information of the people and its striking illustrations of the progress made in a century should pass forever. Let such is the history of expositions or "World's Fairs." They are but for a few months.

Sometimes we think we should have always in America some permanent exposition, added to each year, to show what we are, whence we have progressed and whither we may go. Of course, all about us daily such an exposition is ever open but we do not see it. We need to have it emphasized. We must have the picture before us, in a frame, so to speak, so we may view it just within the frame. There is too much to see and too much to understand in the panorama of life that is ever moving. We can read about so much and see so much. Many of us are not appreciative unless we have something framed or roped off for us to look at.

Probably an annual World's Fair would not attract as does one that lasts less than a year. If it were annual we could always go next year and we might never go. Yet it seems waste that such an exposition as the Century of Progress should close its doors forever after only a few months.—Rochester Times-Union.

FEDERAL RELIEF CAMPS FOR JOBLESS

Bids for furnishing foodstuffs in wholesale quantities, which have been asked by Washington, indicate the extent to which the Federal Relief Administration is going forward with its work. With camps already operating in several states, promise is made that Pennsylvania will be included in the group due to receive early attention.

These national chains of camps are expected to provide shelter for the unemployed during the winter and to keep men and boys from roaming the highways. Under government supervision and maintenance these enterprises should break up the tendency of wanderers to organize movements subversive to law and order.

Coming at this stage of the New Deal, the program attracts comparatively little attention. We have grown accustomed to undertakings of a kindred nature. Public thought has undergone a radical change since the days when a limited interpretation was given to the "general welfare" clause in the preamble to the Constitution. The economic emergency is held to answer a number of doubts which would be potent in other times. Grover Cleveland once remarked that it was the duty of the people to support the government, not the government's duty to support the people.

The permanent effects of the new policy may have an important bearing on an old question of specific application to Pennsylvania. Here we have long wavered over the jurisdiction of providing for the indigent. Sometimes it has seemed that the care should be a county function; at other times a municipal function. The legislature has been constantly changing the law to satisfy local demands here and there, until nobody can see where the net trend is leading. That a system of uniformity with state-wide application is desirable can scarcely be denied. Now to the present confusion is added the federal participation. Here is a complexity of forces whose final resultant will be difficult to predict.

IS THERE A CINDERELLA IN YOUR FAMILY?

There may be one member of a family, who, because of good nature and an unsuspecting one, is imposed upon by the others in the circle. Desiring to be kind, to avoid disputes, and to further the family interests, very often this member assumes work that should be done by the others.

And the others are quite willing that this shall be the case.

Are you a shirker in your home? Isn't it a fact that if you can avoid duties which should be yours, your don't care who has to perform them?

You may say to yourself as an excuse that the "easy" one does not mind—and does not dislike to do the work as much as you do.

But you know that thought is fostered by you to justify your selfishness and unfairness.

If you are going somewhere, very often you put off your work till it is too late for you to do it and keep your date.

Then you ask the accommodating member of the family to help you out.

It would serve you right if you were unable to carry out your outside plans because of your inability to get ready at the necessary time.

Do you need this lesson?

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

FINE—BUT—

A news report that the airmail stamp issued a few years ago with the likeness of an airplane on it shown upside down is now worth $3,800, offered by collectors, recalls the story of the Senator who received $24 from a constituent to buy him a sheet of the new stamps.

When the stamps were handed to the Senator, he noticed the upside-down plane and indignantly accused the postal clerk of trying to palm off some defective stamps on him.

The clerk then told the Senator stamps of another new issue. The sheet of "defective" stamps turned down by the Senator would now be worth $380,000.

But who has the $380,000?

There is an over-supply of chickens in this country and the prices are low. In order to reduce the stock so prices will go up, the Federal Relief proposes to give three million people each a five pound chicken for Thanksgiving and Christmas. The relief folks will like that and it will be so much better than destroying the surplus chicks. Some one is using brains.

A magazine article says that "the people of the United States are carrying around 200,000 pounds of waste fat" with them. Better not call too much attention to this or somebody may be proposing to levy a processing tax to pay for reducing this heavy surplus.

When one sees an ad in the magazines today, it is hard to tell whether it is for shoes, hosiery or one night corn cure, and he doesn't bother to find out.

We used to sit about the fire and play exciting games.

Like tossing apple parings in the air and fancy names.

Were fashioned as they tumbled to the floor by goblin hands;

But pleasure such as that today no youngster understands.

I find as soon as darkness falls our boys and girls, alas!

Prefer to go out ringing bells and soaping window glass.

When older we had grown we thought it fun to roam the town

And steal some neighbor's buggy wheels or tear his back fence down.

We played some pranks, which I confess today were downright mean.

For in our youth that seemed to be the sport for Halloween.

But now the youngsters find delight in racing on the grass

And ringing door bells far and near and soaping window glass.

HALLOWEEN

It used to be the night of sprites and creatures seldom seen.

We used to bob for apples in a tub on Halloween.

And there was talk of wishing-wells in which a maiden fair

Might see reflected in the pool the one whose ring she wore.

But Halloween is different now, since customs change and pass

It's just a night for ringing bells and soaping window glass.

I hollowed out a pumpkin for a Jack-o'-Lantern bright.

I thought I had the eyes and nose and mouth exactly right.

But Jane, viewed my handiwork with rather cold disdain;

She merely turned her head and said she hoped it wouldn't rain.

And when I questioned why, I learned that rough little lass

Had planned to go out ringing bells and soaping window glass.

We used to sit about the fire and play exciting games

Like tossing apple parings in the air and fancy names

Were fashioned as they tumbled to the floor by goblin hands;

But pleasure such as that today no youngster understands.

Hundred Guests In Halloween Costume Flock To Local M. E. Church Last Night

One hundred or more youngsters and adults gathered at the Mahoning Methodist church Monday evening for a Halloween party sponsored by the senior Epworth League. It was a great party, true to the traditions of the Epworth League, and everyone had a rip-roaring good time. Howard Tackitt was the fortune teller, Maxine Gillespie was in charge of the candy and Isabelle Shaw and Minnie Tindall had charge of the "novelty tree."

A grand march was an interesting feature of the evening. Three judges, R. C. Cather, Sam Booher and Omar Mauck, looked over the strange masquerade party and awarded a number of prizes. Mrs. Mildred Tindall was given first prize and Miss Dorothy Drushel, second.

A one act comedy, "The Fatal Necktie," was well presented and appreciated by the crowd. Sam Cather was the hero, Jane Steen the heroine, Kenneth Wilson the villain, Ellen Wylie the villainess and Helen Messner the coquette. Later in the evening delicious refreshments were served.

The unit is in need of more volunteer women to sew and cut. Any wishing to help are asked to call Mrs. Hannah Evans Gwilym immediately.

COSTUME PARTY

A hilarious time was enjoyed by the youngsters of Mrs. Gilbert Scheidebant's Sunday school class and the members of the Junior Christian Endeavor Society at the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church Monday evening.

Hours from 6:30 to 8:30 were observed and were crammed chuck full of fun. The children, numbering about 25 in all, came garbed in costumes befitting to the Halloween season. A light lunch was served during the evening.

Mrs. Gilbert Scheidebant and Mrs. D. C. Schnebly were in charge.

Hawk Is Sentenced
To Penitentiary

Lawrence County citizens who were victimized by E. Hawk, Youngstown, who had been indicted to learn that he pleaded guilty to one of 41 indictments at Youngstown yesterday and was sentenced to one to ten years in the Ohio penitentiary.

Hawk's guilty plea came unexpectedly after subpoenas had been issued for his trial, set for Wednesday.

Hawk came into court to plead guilty to embezzling $561 from Francis and Mary Schilling in 1921 and 1922. This is the indictment on which Hawk was extradited last spring from Leavenworth Federal prison.

Hawk asked for leniency. In pronouncing sentence, Judge Maiden said: "You have saved Mahoning county thousands of dollars from cases which might have been tried against you, but the law leaves me nothing to do but invoke the penalty."

NEEDS ACTION

New Castle, Pa., Oct. 30, 1933.

Editor,
Reading an account in a late edition of your paper as to the boating at a recent football game, would say that it was very mild considering what happened Friday eve.

Oct. 27 at the same place. A crowd of men gather there at the west side bleachers where women also go and use such profanity that is thoroughly disgusting even to the men, and when rebuked they will sarcastically tell you that they have no respect for any ladies not even their mothers. I experienced this situation Friday eve with my wife and daughter and was thoroughly disgusted as were many others nearby. This would be a grand field for our county detective to work in as the evidence this crowd carries with them would surely convict them.

Thanks to the mention of football today for giving a clean game and let try and be sports enough to be decent so that ladies as well as men can attend and enjoy themselves.

PROTEST POSTMISTRESS
REMOVAL

The News Publishing Company,
New Castle, Pa.
Mr. Editor:—

We admire our President and approve his efforts in trying to restore conditions throughout the country and towards putting into effect the new deal and a square deal for some of our citizens who have not been so fortunate as some others, but we notice that some of his ardent supporters have apparently not gotten the spirit of the whole thing yet.

We refer to some who still strive for their own aggrandizement or elevation into public office by the old rule of "To the victors belong the spoils." The specific case in mind is the appointment of a postmistress in West Pittsburg.

The postmistress in West Pittsburg was appointed a couple of years ago when she was practically the only competent person who could be availed upon to accept the appointment. She has been conducting the affairs of the office in such a capable and efficient manner that nothing but commendation for her services has been given by all fair minded patrons of the office. She is a widow who has been raising her small family in a humble but comfortable way by her own efforts without seeking or accepting aid from others. Now she is seized by the greedy despair fearing that she will ultimately be deprived of her means of livelihood and of keeping her family together by the efforts of a politician aspiring to office and considering replacing her by the appointment of a person who may desire some votes to him. We hold nothing against any person seeking an office which they are competent to fill in an honorable manner but we cannot approve this manner of getting votes and we cannot help questioning the ability for holding office of those who seek their election by this means.

We do not believe any politician endowed with the spirit of the present administration will use the removal of a widow in nearly destitute circumstances from office as a stepping stone for his own elevation to office. We trust that he will be acquainted with the facts in the case and will do the right thing. We cannot do otherwise than feel that he is not the man for the office which he is seeking for the office of those who seek their election by this means.

Yours truly,
Mahoning Valley Sand Co.
R. B. COWHER,
President.

WRITES FROM FLORIDA
St. Cloud, Fla.,
October 26, 1933.
Mr. Fred L. Rentz,
New Castle News.

Dear Sir:—
I promised you when I was there, I would write after arriving home, which I did. I will attempt to write a few lines again and let my friends in good old New Castle know how we are. We have had very warm weather until just recently, when the cold winds and a few flurries of snow, we got a light touch of it, although it was not cold. The temperature today was 80, so you see it is not so bad.

We were somewhat surprised on Sunday, the 8th, to see Mr. and Mrs. Norris Fyle drive in. They paid us a short visit as they were on their way to Miami. We were glad to see them. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Slausenhaupt arrived here two weeks ago and rented a cozy little stucco bungalow on the corner of Massachusetts avenue and 13th street. They came driving with a brand new Essex car. We are expecting some more of the good New Castle people in a short time now if the weather keeps getting colder there, for that is what it takes to start them to the land of sun-

We have not been doing much fishing since I came home, have been out twice. I was out week before last with a fellow I fish with most of the time. We got nine bass. I landed one that weighed ten pounds and was 25 inches long and 18 inches round—some bass and some sport landing him as I was fishing with a light line and cane pole. My line managed to hold out but the pole was badly cracked.

The hunting season opens on November 20, so I will do very little fishing as long as the hunting lasts. The most of our hunting is for quail and there is more this year than ever before, I think. Of course we have turkey and deer and duck, but the deer are getting scarce. I never care to hunt them, but I nearly always have a turkey for Thanksgiving, as they are not so hard to get if a person knows how.

We notice by our Tampa paper that there has been a good many cars of fruit shipped out of the state in the last few days, most grape fruit, and there have been several cars of vegetables shipped. Beans have been the leading product in vegetables. This marketing of fruit and vegetables is the means of giving employment to a large number of men as well as women.

People are making garden now and planting out strawberry plants. These plants will be bearing in about two months and then they will bear until in June. Frank McConnell, with whom I made the trip north and back, has been very busy trying to get caught up with his work after being away for three months. His work is principally working with rose bushes and flowers and he sure has a score for the privilege of attending. I do think it is a grand thing to have these reunions where so many can get together and talk of old times and old school days. I only hope the time may come when I shall be able to attend some of these old time gatherings again, as I certainly did enjoy shaking hands with so many of my old time friends.

With best wishes to all, I remain,
Yours truly,
A. S. MCKAY.

government decreed normal crop into a large surplus, or a famine. The cotton planter can with better cultivation and closer picking make up for the acreage they plowed under. What would happen to a Government decreed crop as against favorable, or unfavorable weather conditions? The weather alone has reduced this year's wheat crop to a much greater extent than the proposed decrease by government decrees.

The sad fact of these experiments is, that it now seems that they were unnecessary. From a recent report of the International Financial Conference at Geneva, it appears that the low of the depression was in the summer of 1932 and that since then, there had been a world wide improvement in business and economic conditions. This was all secured without the aid of the "New Deal," or the danger fallacies now being tried out in America.

The present greatest danger is, from the fact that as these experiences prove unsuccessful, there is a further and growing demand for more radical remedies. The pressure on the Government from the enormous army of bureaucrats created for carrying on the present experiments will be almost irresistible.

The great body of the people have long kept silent, not from approval, but from hope that something good might be accomplished, but criticism is growing and when the flood gates are opened, it will sweep away the whole unsound economic policies of the administration, along with the brain trust whose advice is responsible for same.

Prior to 1929, there was published in The News a letter by the writer pointing out the danger of the then inflation and the probable results. The results as indicated in this letter have largely followed. The danger is greater now, for in 1929, it was only an economic fallacy that exploded. Now the fallacies are both political and economical.

Signed,
E. M. UNDERWOOD.

State Chairman Speaks To Young Republicans Here On Monday Night

Enthusiasm for the entire Republican ticket and a very apparent indication of substantial support for the ticket was shown Monday night when the Lawrence County Young Republicans met in the dining room of the Castleton Hotel for a pre-election dinner meeting. The meeting was in charge of the county chairman of the Young Republicans, Attorney Joseph R. McFate.

Following the dinner, Chairman McFate introduced Senator George T. Weingartner, chairman of the Lawrence County Republican committee who spoke briefly and then had to leave for another meeting. Senator Weingartner expressed the pleasure of the senior committee at the work of the younger Republicans and urged them to carry on for the entire ticket on November 7.

The candidates of the Republican party were present and were called upon to speak. They include Edward D. Pritchard, candidate for sheriff, Mont L. Alley, candidate for District Attorney, Miss Jeanette W. Hutton, candidate for Register and Recorder, Joseph Alexander and B. F. Butler, candidates for city council, Earl R. Wimer, candidate for City Controller and Walter W. Duff, Roy W. Hazen and Griff Thomas, candidates for school board, George J. Forrest candidate for Jury Commissioner was confined to his home with a cold.

The chief speaker of the evening was Charles W. Carroll, State Chairman of the Young Republicans. Mr. Carroll explained that he had been fed "on the milk bottle of Republicanism since the cradle."

"This is the day of opportunity for young people in politics," said Mr. Carroll. "The enthusiasm of youth, plus the experience of the older member of the party means a combination that will be hard to defeat any time," said he.

"We had twelve years of false prosperity after the war," said Mr.

Carroll and the depression was a natural economic result. Now we are faced with several alternatives. Either we can take the old way out of hard work and faith and courage, or we can accept some of the glittering signboards that lead off the path of true recovery. We have a lot of fanatics endeavoring to show us the way, promising us a lot of things if we accept their road, but in many cases they are academic nuts, dreamers and half baked theorists.

"You will find that the bulk of our national prosperity has been built under Republican administrations. I am confident that the nation will turn again, very soon to Republicanism and here in Pennsylvania and Lawrence County it is an inspiring thing to know that the young men and women of the state are embracing the principles of the G. O. P."

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening; associate hosts were Mrs. George Duell, Minnie Davidson, Katherine Dickson and Bertha Dods.

Ghost Party.

About sixty members of the McClure Bible class of the First Presbyterian church gathered at the church last evening for a ghost party, the members being dressed as ghosts.

A very enjoyable evening was spent in playing games which were arranged by the committee consisting of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stewart, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. G. Wilfred Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tindal and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Thorn. At 11 p. m. the committee served a very delicious lunch, the tables being very attractively decorated with Halloween paper with candles set in ears of corn.

Hostess to Friends

Miss Mary Calo of North Mercer street entertained in a delightful manner at her home on a recent evening, a gathering of friends at a Halloween party. The participants arrived in costume, and after revealing who was who, a program of cards, music and dancing was in order. Prizes were given the various winners at conclusion of play and a dainty lunch served. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. V. E. Ganoe with the menu. All appointments and the rooms were decorated suggestively of the season. Places marked for eight couples at tables prettily arranged.

Centennials Party

The Centennial Baseball team met at the home of Burdell Riley for a party. Games of an amusing nature were in progress at 8 o'clock lasting until 11 p. m. Lunch was served by Mrs. E. J. They will return to New Castle Saturday evening or Sunday of this week.

NAMELESS BRIDGE MEMBERS ENTERTAIN

Miss Doris Updegraff entertained members of the Nameless Bridge Club with a Halloween party, in her home on Moody avenue, last evening. Two tables were in play, and the lovely high score award was won by Miss Ada Miller.

Assisted by her mother, Mrs. C. D. Updegraff the hostess served a delicious lunch. The small tables were centered with tall orange tapers, and all appointments were orange and black, in keeping with the season. The candle light lent an eerie atmosphere suitable for Ghost stories. Immediately thereafter, fortune-telling became the main attraction and many and varied were the futures foretold in that Witching Hour.

The Club adjourned to meet in two weeks at the home of Miss Eloise Cole on Euclid avenue.

FIELD CLUB BRIDGE THURSDAY EVENING

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Davis, Jr., are the hosts announced for the Thursday evening bridge party to be staged at the New Castle Field club this week.

Play will begin at the usual hour with the awarding of lovely prizes for those successful in winning honors at conclusion of play. Lunch will be served at a late hour to the participants.

East Brook Party

What proved to be a most successful Halloween event took place Monday evening when Rev. and Mrs. James Guthrie were hostesses to the Helping Hand Class of the East Brook U. P. Church, their husbands, and friends.

In spooky fashion the guests arrived in ghost costume. The dimly lighted rooms decorated in Halloween colors and the weird sounds added much to the occasion.

After guessing the masked persons, the evening was given over to Halloween games and frolic. Contests were also featured. At a late hour a delicious repast was served by the hostess assisted by Ina Patterson and Ruby Wilson.

The guest list included: Mary Jane McKnight, Mildred Patterson, Grace Young, Ina Patterson, Ivy Walton, Lillian Edie, Mary Patterson, Helen Young, Bernice and Alma Edie, Dick Billig, William Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McKee, Mr. and Mrs. David McKnight, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Black, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Albion, and the hosts.

Council Meeting

Mrs. D. Edwin Miller of Pittsburgh, state chairman of Scholarship for the Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the speaker Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Temple Israel, Highland and Moody avenues for the New Castle Section National Council of Jewish Women.

All members of the Federation of Clubs in New Castle will be welcome at this meeting. Mrs. Miller will speak on "Scholarship and Education."

The business meeting will begin at 8 o'clock, with Mrs. L. Marks in the chair. Miss Huda Abel of McKeesport will give a dramatic reading and Miss Ruth Drescher will have a vocal number.

Mrs. M. Schoenberger is chairman of hostesses for the evening.

Mrs. Stitzinger Hostess

Mrs. Wayne Stitzinger, Boyles avenue, received the members of the Queen Esther Auxiliary of the Epworth Methodist church in her home Monday evening, with twenty members present.

Mrs. Harry McCurdy led the devotional, Mrs. Effie Morrison gave the review of the study book and Mrs. Ray Bishop had the Home Missionary article.

Special guests included Mrs. Ed. Runkle of Gary, Ind., a former member, and Mrs. P. Shofa, Butler. Mrs. O. D. Williams was enrolled as a new member. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

December 4 the group will meet with Mrs. E. O. Delancy, Delaware avenue.

Halloween Monday Eve

Mrs. Jessie Beck of North Walnut street was hostess Monday evening to members of the Rose Sharon class of the Croton M. E. church at her home. The guests arrived in masquerade costumes, and as each entered a number was pinned upon them and a contest in guessing their identity ensued causing much merriment. Mrs. Pansy Reiber and Mrs. Amy McCreary were winners in the contests staged.

The hostess was assisted in serving a Halloween lunch by Mrs. Florence Cook, Mrs. Louella Gormley and Mrs. Grace Lock.

Wimoda Club Party

The Wimoda Club party to be given Friday evening in the Cathedral for members is being looked forward to with much enthusiasm. Reservations are being given to Mrs. Lolla McBride on Boyles avenue instead of Mrs. Dague as announced and Mrs. C. A. Donges on East Grant street.

The party will be in keeping with the Halloween season.

The 500 Club Members

Mrs. George Hurn of Galbreath avenue will entertain The 500 Club members in her home Tuesday, November 7 at their usual session.

Fairfield Unit

The Fairfield Unit of the Epworth Methodist Guild will be entertained in the home of Mrs. P. C. Linsendiger, 212 Hazelcroft avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

YUCATAN CLUB MEETS AT DUNN RESIDENCE

The Yucatan club members gathered in the W. G. Dunn home, East street, Monday evening for their usual social event. The occasion was attended by thirty-one including Miss Lillian Perry, B. E. Agnew and Mrs. James Andrews, the latter of Erie, and house guest of Dr. and Mrs. John Foster of North Mercer street, special participants of the club.

Cards filled in the leisure hours in a delightful manner and after the awarding of prizes a delicious lunch was served.

Their next meeting will occur November 14 which falls on a Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kirk, Highland avenue, hosts.

Little Folks Party

The little members of the primary class of the First Congregational church were entertained at an elaborately appointed masquerade party Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Joseph Layde and Mrs. M. K. Miller, in the Leyde Home, Neshannock avenue, with the little masqueraders entertained from two until five. The decorations of orange and black added a festive air to the event.

Harold Shelatree and Thomas Thomas Jr. won prizes in the contests of the afternoon. A dainty lunch was served the little folks when the afternoon closed and the group included Jean Turner, Mary Ruth Turner, Peggy Lou Long, Harry Long, Mary Louise Davis, Jean Crawford, Louise Davis, Patty Jo Leyde, Sally Crawford, Eleanor May McKibbin, Betty Jane Cope, Ruth Johns, with special guests: Jimmie Shelatree, Homer Miles, Jr., Donna Jean Daniels, Charles D. Thomas and Mary Audrey Pritchard of Pittsburgh.

Y. P. C. U. Party

The recreation room of the Third United Presbyterian church was lovely Monday evening with decorations suggestive of the witches' holiday, when the members of the Y. P. C. U. assembled for a Halloween party.

Ducking for apples, as well as many other games suggestive of the holiday, were enjoyed after which refreshments were served.

John Kyle, Willard and Edgar McCown and Bill White were on the decoration and recreation committee and the refreshments committee included Helen Kyle, Catherine Newberry, Henry Lawton and Elmer Gorman.

Party At Casey Home

Miss Eleanor Casey of Etna street was hostess Monday evening to a party of friends at her home when she entertained at a festival in celebration of the Halloween season. Dancing and the telling of fortunes filled in the hours. A special feature was the vocal duets rendered by Bill Hart and Jack Griffith. Card games were also a part of the evening's program.

At a suitable time, the hostess served a buffet lunch with appointments in keeping with the occasion. Places were marked for the following guests: Mary Quinn, Gertrude Quinn, Helen Fulkerson, Eleanor Casey, Ann Chell, Jack Griffith, Bill Brandt, Jack Cole, Dean Smith, and Bill Hart.

Birthday Celebration

In honor of her thirteenth birthday, Miss Helen Trushel, 316 North Shenango street entertained twelve of her class mates and friends at a masquerade party. Stunts and games were the pastimes of the evening with Marie Hanlon, Irene Hromyak and Margaret Mary Maher as prize winners.

At a late hour the guests were ushered to the dining room where lunch was served. A huge Jack-O-Lantern made a spooky center piece for the lovely decorated table. The guests were the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Class To Dine

The members of the Iretia Dart Class of the First Christian church will have a 6:30 tureen dinner in the church dining room Thursday evening and each member is permitted to bring a guest.

L. A. B. Club

Mrs. Flora Cunningham will entertain the L. A. B. Club members in her home on East Grant street Thursday evening of this week instead of Friday.

Fifty Students In Harmonica Club At South Side School

One organization at the Lincoln and Garfield school which is creating much interest among the boys and girls is the Harmonica club, supervised by Charles Christopher, health supervisor. Every afternoon in the auditorium of the school one can hear the children rehearsing many numbers which were famous in the olden days. About 50 pupils make up the organization.

Despite the fact that harmonicas are considered a boy's instrument, there are about 25 girls in the club. Mr. Christopher has divided the club into two groups. The advanced group which takes part in the school assemblies numbers 15. The other 35 are steadily improving. Some old numbers which were famous some years ago are being played. The children play "Home Sweet Home," "Old Black Joe" and "My Old Kentucky Home" to perfection according to their supervisor, Tom Natale who is a fifth grader adds a little color by accompanying the harmonica players with his guitar. Despite his age the youngster is an accomplished guitar player.

A school fund is the means of purchasing harmonicas for youngsters who desire to learn to play the mouth organ and who can't afford to buy one. Principal James M. Hughes helps to teach the children. Birds and trees are being studied by members of the Nature Study club, according to Miss Nancy McConahy who heads the club. Every Friday afternoon a program is staged in the class room by one of the classes. About 150 pupils constitute the Nature Study club.

Basketball practices have started and according to Coach Christopher, the Lincoln and Garfield school will have another winning quintet this season.

The school enrollment this year is 902 students. This is the biggest enrollment in the past four years.

Weekly Health Talk

"As usual, many persons overdid the annual summer vacation. Instead of seeking a place where they could rest and relax, many jumped into their automobile, set down a schedule of 350 miles a day, returned home completely fagged out and boasted about it. Others arriving at seashore or mountain resort concluded to pack into the two weeks freedom as much excitement and food and as little rest and sleep as possible. Many such persons are now complaining about their tired condition. Vacations spent in such a fashion would, therefore, seem to require a repeat dose at this time of the year," states Dr. Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary of Health.

"And in making this statement there is no idea of suggesting that one shut up shop for another fortnight and go to shore or mountain. The point is to give the body now what it is deprived of on the former vacation, namely, a new deal. With the crisp autumn days and the brisk invigorating air it would be to every one's advantage, vacation foolish or otherwise, to make the most of them. Instead of unwisely wooing a super-heated room, step out in the open regularly by each day, put a three or four mile walk with good company on the schedule; and this whether rain, snow or shine. It may be that a few less bridge games will be played, or less movies will be seen, but rest assured the body will never miss be greatly benefited by such fresh air and exercise treatment.

"It might also be advisable to give one's stomach a reasonable vacation as well. Not that any starvation diet is being advocated, only that if one has been habitually over-eating or under-eating, then to return to normalcy.

"And finally, it will be wise to give the body its eight hours of sleep each night of which it has likely been so consistently deprived for a long time.

"The beauty about this vacation suggestion is that it will cost no money and at the same time make up for the vitality building opportunity lost during the summer. Such autumn vacations are really quite worth while. Try one."

NEW BOYS' HEAD COMES TOMORROW TO TAKE Y POST

Warwick, Vestryman and Church School teacher in St. John's church and civic leader in Youngstown. He will speak to the topic, "There Is Nothing New Under the Sun."

Mr. Warwick will be accompanied by the Rev. Leonard W. Stryker, rector of St. John's church and president of the Youngstown Ministerial Association.

Messrs. Lloyd W. Strayer and Robert M. Garland will lead in the discussion of matters of local interest.

Mrs. Henry J. Hope is in charge of the preparation of the supper and Mrs. Winsor A. McNally of those who serve it.

Negro Attacker Being Hunted In Beaver County

Former Sheriff Boyd Injured

Auto Overturns On Butler Road After Being Side-swiped Last Night

Former Sheriff Joseph A. Boyd, aged about 75, of R. D. 6, New Castle, received injuries to his back about 6:30 p. m. yesterday when his car was overturned in an automobile crash along the Butler-New Castle highway, according to State Highway Patrolman W. E. Sloopes. The former official was taken to his residence.

According to the report of the highway patrol, Miss Ruth Shiner of 1064 Adams street, was driving toward New Castle and her car side-swiped the coupe driven by Boyd. His car overturned.

Driver Asleep, Escapes Injury As Truck Upsets

Truck Loaded With Merchandise Overturns In Harmony Early This Morning

When George Thomas, of Pittsburgh, driver of a truck loaded with merchandise went to sleep early this morning, as his truck approached the bridge in Harmony, the machine failed to take the sharp curve at that point, crashing into a guard rail and tearing out several posts after which it collided with the porch of a home and then overturned. Thomas was uninjured, and Kenneth H. Cook, of West Liberty, W. Va., owner of the truck who was sleeping inside, also escaped with minor injuries.

There is a sharp curve in the highway of Route 19 at this point. Thomas falling asleep at the wheel just before the spot was reached, he told highway patrolmen who investigated the accident.

The truck, with trailer attached was badly damaged and the merchandise was scattered along the roadway.

MAY SEEK U. S. AID IN DISPUTE

Pay Controversy Arises At New Post Office; Brick Work Stops

The United States government, it was indicated early this afternoon, will be appealed to by the A. W. Kutsche company, general contractor for the new post office, to make a decision in the wage controversy which suddenly developed late Monday between 11 post office bricklayers and the Hoyland & Mercer company, sub-contractors for the building's brick work.

In signed affidavits the workmen contend that back pay is owed them by the sub-contractor. They presented them to Federal Construction Engineer Miles E. Myers for action. Myers in turn presented the sworn statements to the Kutsche concern.

It is expected that an early government ruling will bring a settlement to the dispute.

Only the brick work has been halted.

Three Masses At St. Vitus Church

All Saints Day Wednesday Is Feast Of Obligation—Three Masses Thursday

On Wednesday morning at the St. Vitus church, three masses will be celebrated in connection with All Saints day. Fr. Nicholas DeMita announced this morning.

The first mass starts at 7:00 o'clock, the second at 8:15 o'clock and the third which will be a requiem high mass followed by benediction will commence at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. Albert Farina, assistant at the St. Vitus church will be the celebrant of the third mass. This is a feast of obligation to the Catholics.

Rev. DeMita also stated that three masses will be celebrated on Thursday morning. Thursday is All Souls day. The masses will be celebrated at 7:00, 8:15 and 9:30 o'clock. The 7:00 o'clock mass will be a requiem high mass with Rev. DeMita as the celebrant.

NO ADDITIONAL PAY PERMITTED POOR DIRECTORS

asking that they be surcharged with the money drawn for acting as a poor board.

Hildebrand's Opinion

In his opinion Judge Hildebrand calls attention to this being a sixth class county, having a population between 75,000 and 100,000. Since December 1, 1924 county commissioners have been acting as poor directors. Two of the commissioners at that time, Francis M. Davis and T. J. McCullough, claimed that they were entitled to additional compensation of $600 each for acting as a poor board. Their case was disposed of in an opinion by Judge Hildebrand on November 2, 1926, in which he held that the then county commissioners were entitled to an additional salary for acting as a poor board under the act of June 7th, 1917. The act provided that in counties such as Lawrence the commissioners should receive a salary of $2,000, and where they acted as a poor board, $2,800. This applied to counties of the third, fourth, fifth and sixth class.

The act now in force is that approved April 27th, 1927, fixing the salary of county commissioners in counties the size of Lawrence at $3,000. It is held that all acts inconsistent with the act of 1927 are repealed.

Judge Hildebrand then cites a case taken up from Clearfield county in which the act of 1923 was involved. The supreme court held that the provisions of the act of 1923, allowing county commissioners for acting as a poor board was repealed by the act of 1927.

Judge Hildebrand holds that the language of the act of 1917 upon which the defendants in this case rely is identical with the act of 1923 upon which the commissioners relied in Clearfield county, and in the opinion of the court that case should rule in the present one.

"It seems clear," says the court, "that the act of 1923 repeals the act of 1917 upon which the defendants rely, and that for the year 1931, the defendants were entitled to receive $3,000 from the general fund, and no more, notwithstanding they also acted as a poor board, and that they are now indebted to the county in the sum of $1,800, and should be surcharged with that amount."

Since this suit was instituted the county commissioners have only been drawing the $3,000 to which they were entitled as commissioners.

Hunting Not Permitted On Game Farm

Rules Will Be Rigidly Enforced, Superintendent Warfel States

BOUNDARIES OF FARM ARE MARKED

Hunting is not permitted on the lands of the Jordan State Game Farm and trespassers found on the farm property with a gun in their possession will be dealt with according to the law. Supt. V. T. Warfel states.

Regulations pertaining to hunting on or near the farm are outlined as follows by Mr. Warfel:

"All parts of the State Game Farms, not used as actual propagating grounds are reserved as game refuge territory, therefore no hunting is allowed on any part of these farms, and no person is allowed to take dog or gun upon the farm at any time, nor to enter the farm for the purpose of stirring up any game that may be there that it may run or fly to the adjoining properties, where hunting is allowed."

"The State Game Farm in Lawrence County consists of 325 acres, situated about one mile from Harlansburg, Scott Township on the Rose Point road and Slippery Rock Creek and extends along the County Line road. This land is well posted with large cardboard posters and is surrounded by a single strand of heavy galvanized wire where there is no other fence. This land will be rigidly patrolled and the rules and regulations which are printed on the posters will be enforced and no excuse will be accepted for hunting or taking dogs or guns on the farm, the penalty for which is twenty five dollars."

Some of the farms adjoining the state game farm are open to hunting, while some of them have been posted by the owners, over which the Game Commissioner has no control. No pheasants have been liberated in the vicinity of the game farm this year as the experience former years has been that most of the pheasants liberated in the vicinity of the farm have found their way back onto the farm before the hunting season being attracted by the birds that are held on the farm for breeding purposes.

Many persons have recently asked employees of the game farm, where the pheasants from the farm have been released this year, but as none are released direct from the farm it is impossible for employees of the farm to answer this question. The employees of the game farms have nothing whatever to do with the distribution of the game raised on the farms. The birds raised on the game farms are all shipped according to instructions from the Harrisburg office, to the various counties and local distribution in each county is managed by the field officers in each county, therefore the game farm employees know nothing about where they are released, other than to which counties they are shipped."

Telephone Exchange Moves Into Its Own Home At Princeton

Has Paid Dividends And Increased Its Assets Since Organization

Successful operation from the time of its organization in 1905 until the present, has marked the progress of the Princeton Telephone Company. The company has just moved into its own building after being housed in the J. W. Shaffer property since 1905. Recently the company purchased the Dr. Lutton property, and work of installing the switchboard was completed on Saturday.

The company bought and paid for the Lutton property out of its plus funds accumulated in addition to paying a regular dividend for many years. The original stockholders started with an investment of only $3,750. With the new building acquired the company now has over $10,000 worth of property, in addition to a considerable sum in the treasury.

There are at present about 175 subscribers who pay one dollar a month for their telephones. The number has decreased a little during the depression but on the whole has held up remarkably well. The exchange is connected with the Bell system.

Here are the Usual Signs of "Acid Stomach"

The Signs of Acid Stomach
Nervousness Auto-intoxication Feeling of Weakness
Neuralgia Nausea Sleeplessness
Indigestion Frequent Headaches Mouth Acidity
Loss of Appetite Sour Stomach

What to Do For It
TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

OR—Take the new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets—one tablet for each teaspoonful as directed above.

If you have Acid Stomach, you can easily trace it. The symptoms above, headaches, stomach pains after eating, "gas," "upsets" are the usual indications.

Now—to get rid of it, all you need do is follow these directions: TAKE: 2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed. Or—you can take Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets; substituting one tablet for each teaspoonful of the liquid and get the same result.

Try It—You Will Be Amazed! Try this and, chances are, it will make a great difference in your life. For this small dosage of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia acts to neutralize stomach acids causing distress.

After-meal pains and discomfort go. You feel freedom from dull headaches. That "afternoon fog,"—you think is depletion or "nerves" disappears. You feel like another person. People are doing this—doctors advocating it, everywhere.

But when you buy, be sure to get the REAL article—Genuine PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia—the kind doctors endorse. Always ask for it by the name PHILLIPS.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM
Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Separate stoles which may be worn in front or behind, tied under the chin or at the shoulder, are legion this autumn. Every short-haired fur is used, from mink to squirrel and Persian lamb and civet cat.

TWO SECONDS to be sure of her Hair*

When you've washed your hair, a little Danderine will keep it from going helter-skelter. When you pay a dollar for a wave, Danderine will help you keep it. It isn't a sticky dressing, or an oily tonic, and it doesn't leave a telltale odor. Its fresh fragrance is gone a moment after applying—but not that marvelous effect of freshness and cleanliness!

With all the care a woman gives her hair, it is a pity to omit this last touch that means so much. It's no trouble. Yet you can hardly believe anything so mild and delightful as Danderine could bring such a change in the condition and appearance of hair and scalp. Just try it. You can buy a bottle of Danderine at any drugstore for thirty-five cents.

That's what moistening your comb with a few drops of Danderine will do. And no amount of dry-combing will ever do. Nearly all hair needs the help that Danderine gives it. A dash of Danderine morning and night when you comb it, makes an amazing difference in the way any hair looks all the time!

VOTERS HAVE BIG TASK ONE WEEK FROM TODAY

Many Issues To Be Disposed Of

Repeal, State Amendments, Beer Sale, Sunday Sports, All Are Up

ELECT OFFICIALS FOR CITY-COUNTY

Just a week from today and you and you will be marking your ballots in one of the biggest elections held here in some years.

Not only will you be voting for your favorite candidates for city and county office, but you'll have your say on the 18th amendment, on ten amendments to the State Constitution, on the matter of issuing retail beer licenses in New Castle, Ellwood, New Wilmington and eleven townships, and on the playing of athletic games in the City of New Castle between two and six p. m. on Sundays. And also the matter of electing delegates to the convention to act on repeal of the 18th amendment.

It promises to be a great day for the pencil manufacturers, with all the crossing that will go on, and perhaps here and there a little double crossing. Better arrange to vote early for marking those ballots is going to take some time.

County and City Officers

In the matter of voting for officers in New Castle, you will vote for sheriff, District Attorney, Register and Recorder, Jury Commissioner, two city councilmen, a city controller, three school directors, alderman in the first, third and fourth wards, and a lot of precinct election officials.

The ten amendments to the State Constitution will take some time. If you have studied the resume of them carried in The News, written by Representative William McElwee, Jr., you have an idea of what they mean. All of them are important but one of them. Amendment 8 is vitally important and calls for a Yes vote.

The question of repeal of the 18th amendment is contained in the new 21st amendment to the Federal Constitution. By electing the 15 delegates pledged to repeal you vote to repeal the 18th amendment, by voting for the 15 dry delegates you vote to continue the 18th amendment.

Voting is going to be a task, an important task and calls for study and thought upon the part of the voters. And of course it will mean a lot of time in the voting booth

Mission Head Speaks To Ministers Monday

Splendid Welfare And Spiritual Work Carried On By Mission On Mercer Street

Monday, at the weekly meeting of the New Castle Ministerial Association Benjamin J. Watkins, superintendent of the City Rescue Mission, was the speaker.

He spoke of his personal experiences and his call to mission work; he discussed the various human problems with which he is continuously confronted in his work and he outlined the work being done at the local mission.

He was highly commended by the Ministerial Association for his splendid work, which in the past few months has included:

Spiritual—321 services held in mission; 54 Sunday school services held; 280 prayed with in homes and hospitals; 101 accepted Christ; 20 services outside of Mission.

Service—32,500 meals served; 40,244 gallons of milk served; 5,875 loaves of bread used; 4,940 beds given transit; 4,960 baths provided transit; 86 families moved by mission truck; 70 sewing classes held for women and girls.

Gifts to the needy—52 beds; 44 stoves; 27 quilts; 51 mattresses; 838 garments; 33 loads of wood.

The explosive nitroglycerin was discovered by Sobrero in 1847.

Motor Club Head Warns Of Traffic Dangers Now

While Fall is an ideal season for motoring, it is also a time when the number of motor accidents show a decided increase and individual care on the part of motorists is necessary to assure a greater degree of safety on the streets and highways.

This statement was made today by R. W. Bolsinger, President of the New Castle Motor Club, who cited some of the new traffic hazards present at this season of the year.

"Early twilight, leaves on the wet streets which cause skidding and the tendency of motorists to keep windows closed and forget hand signals," he said, "are of course, conditions which can easily be met by individual care in driving. Allowing more time for reaching the home and office, careful application of the brakes and use of mechanical or hand signals when the

Papers With Liquor Ads Are Barred From Dry States

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Publications containing liquor advertisements will be barred from the mails and must keep out of dry states after repeal.

This was the decision of the post office department today following a decision last week of Attorney General Cummings that the Reed amendment will remain in force after repeal unless congress revokes it.

The Reed amendment provides that no letter, postal card, circular, newspaper, pamphlet or publication of any kind containing an advertisement of liquor shall be admitted to the use of the mails when directed to any addressee "at any place in any state at which it is by law in force in the state—unlawful to advertise or solicit orders for such liquors."

Thousands have Ended their Bowel Worries by taking this advice!

Can constipation actually be overcome? "Yes," say medical men. "Yes," say the many thousands who have followed their advice and know.

You are not likely to cure your constipation with salts, pills, tablets or any of the habit-forming cathartics. But you can correct this condition by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

If there are children in your household, don't give them any form of laxative, but use a healthful, helpful preparation like syrup pepsin. Its very taste will tell you it is wholesome, and agreeable to the stomach. Delightful taste, and delightful action; there is no discomfort at the time, or after. Ask your druggist for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, all ready to take.

THE LIQUID TEST:

This is the way many men and women have made their bowels as regular as clockwork in a very short time.

First: select a properly prepared liquid laxative. Second: take the dose you find suited to your system. Third: gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving of their own accord.

Simple, isn't it? And it works! The right liquid laxative brings thorough bowel action without using force. An approved liquid laxative (one which is most widely used for both adults and children) is syrup pepsin. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna, a natural laxative;

We believe the use of pills and tablets containing drugs of violent action are hard on the bowels.

If there are children in your household, don't give them any form of laxative, but use a healthful, helpful preparation like syrup pepsin. Ask your druggist for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, all ready to take.

We believe Dr. Caldwell's original prescription of fresh herbs, pure pepsin, and senna is the ideal family laxative.

And we know it is a safe preparation for children and expectant mothers because it does not cause bowel strain or irritate the kidneys.

A Frank Statement Concerning Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

County Orchard Shows Big Yield After Thinning

Better Fruit Obtained On New Wilmington Farm Through State Experiment

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 31.—Increased returns were obtained from thinning apples at the J. W. Cummings farm, of New Wilmington, in a demonstration conducted this year, J. U. Ruel, fruit extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, said today.

Four trees of the Wealthy variety were thinned June 10 and four trees left as checks for the comparison. The average yield per tree for the thinned trees was 12 bushels measuring 2½ inches or more at 95 cent a bushel and 12 bushels of culls at 35 cents a bushel, or $15.60 a tree.

Three trees on which the apples were thinned to eight inches apart produced 50 bushels of the 2½ inch apples worth $47.50 and 12½ bushels of culls worth $4.38, or a total of $51.88. The thinned trees averaged $1.69 over the unthinned and the cost of thinning was 50 cents a tree. One tree was thinned so that the apples hung 12 inches apart. This tree produced 19 bushels of 2½ inch fruit worth $18.05 and 3 bushels of culls worth $1.05, or a total of $19.10. The margin in favor of the thinned tree was $3.50 and the cost of thinning was 50 cents.

Seabury's Aides Running for Office as Reward

Irving Ben Cooper Jacob Gould Schurman, Jr. George Trask
When Samuel Seabury was making his expose of Tammany Hall in New York, three young assistants sacrificed income to aid. Their "reward" lies in nominations for important offices on the Fusion ticket, which Seabury is supporting in the New York mayoralty campaign. Jacob Gould Schurman, Jr., is running for district attorney of New York county, George Trask for supreme court judge and Irving Ben Cooper for city court judge.

Kidnaped Candidate

Willis Staton, of Pikeville, Ky., who was kidnaped by four masked men while campaigning as independent candidate for a Circuit Court judgeship. His family sent ashes from the ruins of a shack near the scene of the kidnaping to a chemist for analysis on the supposition that the kidnaped man may have been put to death by burning.

As Kidnap Threat Was Foiled

Life imprisonment faces would-be kidnapers responsible for sending threats to Dr. Willard P. Beach, Bronx (N. Y.) physician, that his grandson, Willard Parker Beach 3rd (shown with his mother) would be kidnapped unless he paid them $500. Three young men were arrested after secret service men executed an elaborate net to effect their capture. They are John Brock, 19 (top); Dominick Ronco, 18 (center), and Alex Rigos, 18. Under Federal "Lindbergh Law," conviction would mean sentences of from 25 years to life.

Victim of Prank

A high school fraternity initiation may cost the life of 15-year-old Ed-ward C. Briggs (above) of Boston. The youth was critically injured when a tombstone fell on him. He was attempting to climb the stone as part of the initiation.

Collegiate Battle Here Saturday Recalls Scenes Of Quarter Century Ago

With New Castle the scene of the Grove City-Westminster college football game at Taggart Stadium, on Saturday afternoon, there will be a large influx of collegians, supporters of both teams in the city during the afternoon.

The revival of the college battle in New Castle, recalls to the minds of many older residents of New Castle and former students of both schools, the days when the teams of the two schools clashed here years ago.

At that time there were few automobiles. When the two teams played here, it was a matter of running special trains from both Grove City and New Wilmington, to New Castle, to bring the collegians.

The trains usually arrived shortly after noon. The collegians, bearded in their blue and white, and crimson, proceeded by a band or two paraded the streets, and frequently the entire football squad was loaded into a bus and hauled through the streets of the city, with the students furnishing the motive power.

The games were played at the old Cascade Park ball park, and usually drew an immense crowd. The students and spectators had to ride the street cars from New Castle out to the park and back.

Several memorable games were played at Cascade Park by the two teams, 20 to 25 years ago, but of late years they have not played here.

With a football plant like Taggart Stadium, and with the easy means of reaching the field from the two schools, there should be a great and colorful crowd at the stadium Saturday.

New Castle will swell the crowd of collegians in large numbers, it is certain.

Pay For Damage Done At School

Because two boys chose to do their playing on a fire escape of Aiken school it cost them exactly $18. In dropping stones from the fire escape the boys did extensive damage. Investigation was made by School Constable Robert L. Stewart, the boys were apprehended, and their parents settled the cost of the damage.

COLDS

Go Thru 3 Stages

—and They're Far Easier
Relieved in the First than in the Second or Third!

A cold ordinarily goes through 3 stages: the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. The first stage is the time to "nail" a cold.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is the treatment for colds. It is expressly a cold remedy and not a preparation good for half a dozen other things as well. It is direct and internal which is what a cold, an internal infection, requires. It is also complete—it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system.

Anything less than that is inviting trouble. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any drugist, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and refuse a substitute.

Ben Franklin Ends Undeclared Season By Trimming Sophs

For Third Consecutive Year Ben Franklin Has Gone Undeclared On Grid

Upset Senior High Sophs 8 To 0 In Battle Monday Night At Taggart Field

Ben Franklin junior high school football team for the third consecutive season has gone undeclared on the football field. The Franklin high season for 1933 was run down Monday afternoon at Taggart Field when the Gillespie coached machine defeated a fast Sophomore team high 8 to 0.

Ottowski Scores. Franklin high tallied their lone touchdown in the second period when Mumford passed to Ottowski the Franklin high star end and he raced 25 yards for the goal line. Mumford's try for the extra point was low. An exchange of punts following the touchdown put the ball deep in Sophomore territory and Aven broke through to tackle DeMartino behind the goal line for a safety and two more points for Franklin high.

During the second half of the game both teams resorted to a passing game, but neither team threatened to score. Aven blocked a punt in the third period, but the Sophs recovered and kicked out of danger. Jokinien and Aven stood out for the Franklin high line, while Adamo and Cardella were the best for the Sophs. Beres made several nice gains for the Sophs. DeCaprio and Mumford looked the best in the Franklin high backfield.

The summary:

Ben Franklin 8
Small 8
Aven 8
Jokinien 8
Coppie 8
Freed 8
Gentsy 8
Ottowski 8
Mumford 8
Zingaro 8
DeCaprio 8
Merando 8
Touchdown—Ottowski.
Safety—Ben Franklin.
Subs—Franklin: Ostrosky, Hammond, Calza, Jenkins, Perry, Russo, Sleserick, DeMarco, Thomas, Emery, Kriol, Toth.
Sophs—McDermott, Frank, Kennedy, McGaffie.
Referee—DeCarbo.
Umpire—Richards.
Linesman—Pezzone.

Flapper clothes are most decidedly out. Elegance is the keynote of the new fashion that sponsor full bosoms, a slight suggestion of hips and nipping in at the waist.

If you're giving a swimming party—in an indoor tank, of course, unless you live in California or Florida—your swim suit should be beaded and iridescent in effect.

Shirring on the skirt avoids the too plain silhouette that is offensive to some women and at the same time preserves the correct line.

Tony Wins From Goodballet Here

Rachig Wins From Weaver And Gray Beats Owens

RAY ATKINSON DEFEATS PROSSER

Eight acts in legalized assault and battery were staged last night for the edification of the punch hungry at Castle bowl and every bout was jammed with thrills. In the grand finale Tony Cerra of Parrel won the decision over Keith Goodballet of East Liverpool in three gory rounds. The middleweights lost no time trying to huc each other to the floor and by the time the third round started their faces were crimson as the result of punches to the nose. Time and again they staggered each other in the closing stanza but both proved durable enough to last the limit. The fight was good. Joey Evans, Ellport, forced George Raffles, East Liverpool, to retire at the end of the second chapter. George started out good but he had made weight for Joey and was weak. However, no one objected when his seconds threw up the towel as he had made a neat showing in the first round. They fought in the 122 pound class.

Atkinson Wins Ray Atkinson, Ellport, and Chet Prosser, East Liverpool, 147, had the fans on their feet cheering throughout their three round scrap. It was a vicious brawl and it was anybody's fight until the last bell sounded. In fact the officials could have given the decision to Prosser and been cheered for it. However, Ray won and when he did he captured a good bout.

Alec Lavin, Ellport, bobbed into the ring against Chuck Arlett, pro- tector of Paris Cangey and they battled viciously for three chapters. In fact the fans liked the fight so good they continued cheering after the 144 pounders had left the ring and it looks as though they have not been seen for the last time.

Fete Boy, Ellwood City welter- weight used all of his three years experience in good stead against Tony Adamo, local mauler in another three round bout. They tried hard but there were no knockdowns. Adamo tried to pound Boy in the clinches but Boy tied him up. Adamo excelled at long range and got the decision.

Very Good Bout Frankie Grider, Bessemer, had Larry Weaver, New Castle, out cold on the floor when the final bell sounded in their scrap which was jammed with action. However, the bell sounded the end of the fight and he won't get credit for a knock- out. Weaver dropped Rachig in the first but he got up without a count.

Rachig sent Weaver down for a count of nine in the third and just before the bell dropped him again and Larry was cold when the bell sounded. It was a very good scrap. They are lightweights.

Lou Tamber of Farrell had some- busy moments in winning over Emil Cannell of this city. In fact Mr. Cannell's son Emil apparently didn't let the fact that Tamber beat Mickie Cutie last week worry him. They battered each for three rounds and the fans appreciated their efforts by giving them the well deserved ap- plause.

Gray Beats Owens Ray Gray, South Sider and Eddie Owens, a North hill boy, put on an act that had plenty of fight in it and Gray won the decision. Ray dropped Eddie with a right in the first round and scored another knockdown in the second and won the decision at the end of the third chapter.

The matches were made by Ed. Fritz of the Jefferson A. C. and the officials were: Referee, Tommy Jones; judges, George Chip and Harry Steiner and timekeeper, Peter Capitola. The bouts were sanctioned by the A. A. U.

Jack Douglas returned to the bowl as an announcer last night and he brought along his four harmony boys. When the fighters weren't fighting Jack was singing and his harmony boys were fingering string instruments and they made a hit with the fight fans.

The big tournament will start next Monday night with practically all the boys in this section entered. About 25 of them were at the bowl last night where they signified their intention of boxing in the first round to be held at the Castle bowl.

A mannish styled hat is being launched in a deep slate blue.

Gray Beats Owens

Ray Gray, South Sider and Eddie Owens, a North hill boy, put on an act that had plenty of fight in it and Gray won the decision.

Ray dropped Eddie with a right in the first round and scored another knockdown in the second and won the decision at the end of the third chapter.

New Castle Rival Guards

HAROLD BERRY

When Westminster and Grove City meet in the annual football classic of the district at Taggart field, New Castle on Saturday, two former New Castle high school lads will be rivals. They are Harold Burry, Westminster guard, and Andrew Behres, Grove City end who has been placed at guard this year. The Crimson and the Blue student bodies, alumni, and former students will jam Taggart field Saturday for the contest.

Rosenbloom And Walker Ready To Battle On Friday

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Maxie Rosenbloom and Mickey Walker were pronounced fit and ready to-day for their light-heavyweight championship match here Friday, following a physical examination by Dr. William H. Walker, state athletic commission physician. Rosenbloom weighed 178 pounds and Walker 177. The men are scheduled to windup training tomorrow.

There is some threat of war between Russia and Japan, but officials fear that nothing will come of it.

Class AA Battle Will Draw Throng To New Kensington

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Barbers may come and barbers may go and it is unlikely that any of 'em have scissored more hair or cut the facial lawns of more fighters than Frank Sullivan, known more familiarly as "Sully" the Barber. He has been located in Apple Alley so long that there were no to meander through the thoroughfare every day this alone would detract considerably from its fame.

He's cut the hair of champions and shaved crown holders, runners-up and ham-and-ers. Back in the days when Tony Ross was white hoping Signor Tony was his customer as was Jimmy Dunn before him. Tony boxed Jack Johnson and Dunn slipped punches from Abe Attell, Harlem Tommy Murphy, Freddy Welch and many others to say nothing of George Chip, the ex-middleweight king.

Every time Bearcat Tom McMahon participated in a fight he visited "Sully" the Barber for hot towels and perhaps a piece of beef steak. Tom milled with the best of 'em and copped a newspaper decision over Jess Willard before the Kansas copped Jack Johnson. Patsy Brannigan who fought three champs and won a newspaper award over one also was his patron.

In fact there were two things Patsy never forgot. The first following a fight was to wire his mother "Not hurt or marked" and the other was to have Sullivan apply soothing lotions as Patsy's skin was fair and every abrasion or black and blue mark showed like a beacon. Light, Big Dan Dailey, Billy Papke, the former 165 pound champ and others were "Sully's" patrons.

Apple Alley was famous for something else in addition to a place to have phizoge scraped and hair clipped. It was the lane for a restaurant wherein men who made countless thousands rubbed elbows with boys who didn't have a cent. It was Dal Hansen's restaurant which since has passed out of existence.

Apple Alley was also the place where Billy Glenn parked his peanut wagon almost 20 years ago. It was a landmark and everybody enroute to the Coliseum, old Star or the Opera house stopped to get some of the peanuts that Billy roasted. Alongside the wagon was a bench and on this bench one could see baseball players, actors, fighters, grid stars, yea, also newspaper reporters.

Apple Alley has lost some of its fistic scenery during the past dozen years. Nowadays the boys who dabbled with gloves are under the management of half a dozen pugilistic directors. Twenty years ago Jimmy Dime, who at one time was one of the country's best 128 pounders, tutored and managed practically every fighter in New Castle.

When an executive demands an "efficient stenographer", he means an office woman who will do the work he gets credit for.

No stocks are really worthless. You can form an investment trust and use your bum stock as part of the investment.

Eyes of the scholastic sport world of Western Pennsylvania will be focused on New Kensington, Pa., Saturday afternoon when Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh turns his "Red Hurricane" football team loose on the hard clay surface of the New Kensington high field.

In all probability the championship of the Class AA division rests with the outcome of this game. There is no getting away from the fact that New Castle must play a better brand of football against New Ken High than they have shown in any game this season.

It is going to take the hardest kind of charging and the cleverest offense possible to cross that New Kensington goal line. You will say, they can't be so tough and good. But Coach Clock started his second team against Tarentum and was saving his regulars for the New Castle game.

Grovers Have Slight Edge For Contest Here On Saturday

(Special To The News)
NEW WILLIAMSTON, Pa., Oct. 31—Although Coach Bill Amos' Grove City College team is still undefeated, having won three games and tied one, the Crimson is only a slight favorite over Westminster's Titans in the game to be played at Taggart Field, New Castle, on Saturday.

The annual Titan-Grover contest is always hard fought and pre-game favorites mean little or nothing when the contest starts. Last year the Grovers were conceded a better chance to win than the Titans, but Westminster won out 7-0 in a hard game at Grove City.

The Titans have won only one game and lost four, but have already played hard games with Geneva, Duquesne, St. Bonaventure and Slippery Rock. The fact that the Grovers tied the strong Slippery Rock team Saturday, while the Titans were defeated 13-7 by the Rockets would indicate that the Grovers are a bit stronger.

Grove City has the edge in the matter of substitute material, having one of the largest squads of district schools, while the Titans have one of the smallest. Since none of the Westminster players were injured in the Duke game Friday night, Coaches Lawther and Martin will have practically the entire group of 20 players available for the game. Five injured men on the Titan list are about ready, and will be set to play Saturday. Jack Hulme, team captain, is expected to play. Thus every player but Walt Young, first-team guard, will be in uniform if it is hoped. Westminster will probably match the Grover pony backfield with a light quartet of ball toters, so the game should be fast and wide open. The two lines will be about equal in weight, with Grove City a bit heavier on the middle.

Hunting Season In Wednesday

Small Game To Be Sought In Lawrence County

Thousands of hunters are awaiting the break of dawn Wednesday as the small game season in Pennsylvania will be ushered in. They will go in quest of squirrels, rabbits, grouse, ringnecks and quail. Hunters are not allowed to shoot Hungarian quail or Reeves pheasant. The cotton tails are in every day but not the snowshoe rabbit and every hunter should carefully read what he can shoot and when they are in season and when they are not in season. Hunters should not toss any lighted cigarettes or cigars away. The woods are dry and heavy with leaves and a lighted match or stogie may cause considerable damage. The hunters should have a regard for the farmer and his property.

PEARS ON DISPLAY IN LOBBY OF NEWS

Some prize pears are on display in the lobby of The News. On Monday afternoon James Patterson, of Mercer, brought in a bag full of Keifer pears which were raised on his farm. Each pear weighs from half a pound to three quarters of a pound. The pears will be on display for a few days.

If only the government would do something to limit the production of suckers.

RAIL SHARES

ARE QUITE DULL

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The stock market continued to wend its way lower today with the main body of stocks down from fractions to about 1 point under yesterday's close.

The list ignored the further rise in the government gold price and the announced agreement over the steel rail price which will result in orders for about 800,000 tons of rails from the country's carriers.

United States Steel, Colorado Fuel & Iron and Bethlehem after opening fractionally higher on the news yielded their gains in the first hour and settled down below yesterday's finish.

Railroad shares turned in a similar performance with New York Central, Lackawanna, Union Pacific and Southern Railway dipping from fractions to about a point under the previous closing.

The utilities came in for some moderate selling and Consolidated Gas dipped fractionally to touch a new low for the year. This unsettled the other utilities including North American, United Corp., and Columbia.

Liquor stocks including National Distillers, Schenley and American Commercial Alcohol gave ground early.

The commodity markets failed to display any rallying tendencies. Wheat sold down from fractions to a cent and cotton was barely steady.

Big Celebration Here Of Hallowe'en Tonight

Have Prospects Of Excellent Evening For Ellwood's Annual Parade

Committees Complete Arrangements For Evening Of Merry Making Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 31.—Ghosts, goblins, witches, and devils will reign tonight in Ellwood City when the annual Hallowe'en celebration will be held.

The arrangements completed for the affair by General Chairman Judd C. Turner, promise to make this one of the most memorable celebrations of the type ever held here.

The celebration will feature a big parade beginning at 8 o'clock. Music will be supplied by two bands, the high school band being one. The parade will form on Line avenue, then march down North street, across the Fifth street bridge, up Lawrence avenue to Seventh street, and thence to the P. & L. E. parking grounds where the judging will be made.

There will be something over a hundred prizes awarded, for 62 best types of costumes which were specified.

M. Y. B. Club Has Hallowe'en Party

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 31.—Members of the M. Y. B. club held an enjoyable Hallowe'en party last night at the home of Mrs. O. W. Meisel on Line avenue. Mrs. Morrow was a special guest. All present were attired in clever costumes.

The evening hours were whiled away around two tables of bridge at the close of which Mrs. Earl Duncan received the high score award. Mrs. Morrow was present with the guest favor.

Later in the evening a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess with the assistance of Mrs. Robert Morris. At the business meeting Mrs. Duncan was admitted as a new member of the club. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 15.

Miss Leona Hart Entertains Club Party Is Held By Brady Club Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 31.—Miss Leona Hart was a charming hostess to the members of the R. D. 8 club last night at her home on Sixth street with all present.

Bridge at two tables was the chief attraction of the evening. Miss Virginia Bellora and Miss Marie Dahl were found to be the winners of the high score awards at the conclusion of the games.

Later in the evening the hostess with the assistance of her mother served a delicious luncheon. Miss Florence Hartung will entertain the club in two weeks at her home on Second street.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY HONORED.

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 31.—An interesting event took place Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. MacKenzie Rutter of near Camp Run when a group of relatives and friends gathered at their home "surprise fashion" to help celebrate the occasion of the seventy-fourth birthday anniversary of Mr. Rutter.

The hours passed in a merry manner with round and square dancing being the popular diversions. The evening was brought to a close by the serving of a dainty repast. The honor guest was the recipient of a number of lovely and useful gifts in memento of the affair.

Sharing the event were: William Thompson and George Tomasson of Lowellville, O., Frank Roffalt, Mary Timblin and Hazel Stewart of Cleveland, O., Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Studebaker of Slippery Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rutter and daughters, Lillian, Dorothy, Ellen and Betty Jane, of Wurttemberg and the honored ones.

Hallowe'en Event At G. N. Hazen's

Nearly Hundred Attend Seasonable Event Of Monday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 31.—Goblins, witches and gypsies hobnobbed with clowns, cowboys, Indians and many other strange characters which infest the country at this year last evening when the members of the congregation of the Providence Baptist church at North Sewickley assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Hazen at Riverview for a Hallowe'en celebration.

The home had been cleverly transformed into an appropriate setting for the festivities and the "mummers", who numbered nearly one hundred, paraded about the home in a spectacular manner. Little Barbara Gillespie as a negro maiden and Clarence Safred and Lester Hazen, as Spark Plug, were awarded the prizes for the best costumes.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fomell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Owens and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Williams, all of New Castle, who were special guests contributed much to the success of the affair by the rendition of vocal selections. The guests entered merrily into the games and contests which occupied the remainder of the evening.

To conclude the jolly event regular Hallowe'en refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Lester Hazen and Mrs. R. G. Steffer. The guests later departed for home voting Mr. and Mrs. Hazen many thanks for their charming hospitality.

Accidents Reported To Local Police

Three Automobile Accidents Occur In City And Outskirts Yesterday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 31.—Reports of three accidents were filed with Ellwood City police last evening and today.

Robert Smiley of the New Castle road reported that he was struck by a car driven by Frank O. Whitman of Wampum avenue, this city. Smiley stated that he had stopped at the Houk-Newton Hollow road and highway intersection and then drove on to the highway where he was struck by Whitman who was coming from the direction of New Castle. Smiley's wife and baby were slightly injured. He estimated damages to his car at $200 and to Whitman's $20. This occurred at 3:30 p. m. Monday.

A slight collision occurred on Fifth street and Lawrence avenue when the cars of Stanley Hertzog of Seventh street this city and Walter Householder of New Brighton, came together. There was little damage done to either machine.

Mike Disarpo, of New Castle, reported that he had $15 damage done to his car when he was traveling north on Fifth street when a truck pulled out in front of him, bringing to the Seidel Co. car company. Before he could serve his car away he had run into it. Another car was going south on fifth street at this time and he hit it also. Damage was done to his fender and bumper.

Insult To Stay In Greece; Wins Court Decision

Greek Court Of Appeals Refuses To Order Extradition
Of Utilities
Magnate

(International News Service)
ATHENS, Oct. 31.—For the second time, Samuel Insull triumphed over the United States government today when the Greek court of appeals refused to order his extradition to Chicago to stand trial on charges of fraudulent bankruptcy. The verdict of the court was returned at 5:40 p. m. (10:40 a. m. E. S. T.).

The court's verdict was returned on an application filed by the United States government on the basis of an indictment returned in Chicago last August.

The indictment accused Insull and other members of his former utilities empire with fraudulently transferring securities of the Corporation Securities company.

One Day Convention In Christian Church

Disciples Of Christ Of Five Counties Assemble In Central
Christian Church

Almost four hundred persons, representatives of the Christian churches of Lawrence, Mercer, Beaver, Butler and Crawford counties assembled for an all day conference Monday in the Central Christian church on Pennsylvania avenue, of which Rev. C. W. Johnstone is pastor.

The speakers for the various sessions throughout the day included John H. Bruce, of the United Christian Missionary Society of Indianapolis, Ind., the clearing house for the Christian church, Mrs. Walter Z. Menzies, Toronto, Canada, from the mission fields of India and Miss Ruth McKinnis, state missionary. Their talks were enthusiastic and inspiring.

Miss Mary Sherger spoke for the members from this district and Miss Margaret Cowmeadow spoke for the young people.

A delicious dinner was served at 6:30, followed by the evening session. The largest delegation from any one place came from Butler.

School Finances May Be Taken Up By Legislators

Committee Studying Cost Of Education Makes Appeal
To Governor

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot today considered an appeal from the legislative committee studying the cost of education to include public school finances in his proclamation summoning the general assembly into extraordinary session on November 13.

"We are informed conditions are so serious in approximately 500 districts as to threaten closing of the school doors early in 1934," the committee wrote the governor.

A sub-committee has been named to draft a partial report of its finding for submission to the special session.

Prepare For Possible Resumption
Of Demonstrations
Of Yesterday

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Oct. 31.—Armed with tear gas and night sticks, emergency squads of Detroit police today were ready for a possible repetition of the tool and die strikers demonstration which yesterday cost injuries to four men and damage to numerous plants.

Meanwhile, Abner E. Larned, chairman of the Regional Labor Board, wrote 130 employers asking them to reopen negotiations with the Mechanics Educational Society, sponsors of the strike in Detroit, Pontiac and Flint. The board offered its services as arbitrator.

Police had a busy night as thousands of strikers paraded the streets adjacent to various factories and resorted to violence at two plants.

Anti-Vet Bonus Planes On Tour

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—Without further interference from hecklers, anti-bonus crusaders flew over Harrisburg in autogiros today and then took off for Pittsburgh to continue their campaign.

Four giros soared over the city with red-lettered slogans seven feet high trailing from the ships.

"Patriotic veterans don't want a bonus" and "Spend state money only on the needy" were among the streamers.

A fifth ship was earthbound by motor trouble but all five later started the flight to Western Pennsylvania. The ex-soldier fliers are touring the state in opposition to Amendment No. 4 which proposes
